DECISIVE JAVA BATTLE NEAR

REPORT HUGE U. S. CONVOY ON HIGH SEAS

Londoners Read Fighting Men And Materials on Way to Southwest Pacific.

OFFENSIVE LOOMS

Report From Warship Hints Plenty of Naval Action Due In Near Future.

(By International News Service)

LONDON—A dramatic description of a huge convoy bearing American fighting men and war materials to "help in the battle of the southwest Pacific" was published by the London Daily Mail today.

Signed by Walter Farr who is accredited to the United States Pacific fleet, the report was sent from an American warship accompanying the convoy.

"We are several thousand miles out toward enemy waters," Farr wrote.

"A group of unidentified planes has flown past us at a great distance.

"We have picked up reports indicating enemy submarines may be near. Our crews are keyed to instant action.

"We are plunging through the sun-drenched Pacific and can see spreading in every direction the great convoy carrying American troops, pilots, planes, tanks and guns to help in the battle of the southwest Pacific.

"These massive forces will not only help defend Australia. They are taking with them large quantities of materials to be used to build up the foundations for a great offensive against the Japanese.

"The Japanese will live to regret Pearl Harbor. Every ship is a load of concentrated hitting power.

"The ships are carrying hundreds of the finest pilots America can produce, powerful units trained in landing operations, hardy infantrymen from the plains, mechanized equipment and the latest and most deadly type of fighter planes.

"The men of the new A.E.F.

War Department Ready to Order Steel Helmets, Other Civilian Defense Supplies for Use In 'Target Areas'

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Civilian defense officials predicted today that orders would go out from the war department "without delay" for the first supply of equipment to protect persons and property in the nation's "target areas" from bombing attacks, sabotage and other war hazards.

The first supplies will include steel helmets, auxiliary fire-fighting apparatus medical material and arm bands. Manufacture of gas masks for the civilian population will come after the War Production Board has issued clearance orders.

An executive order yesterday authorized Director James M. Landis of the Office of Civilian Defense to procure essential equipment through the war department. The OCD has $100,000,000 to spend on equipment, which will be made available on loan to cities which need adequate protection from air raids.

Asking cities not to appeal for equipment, Landis said allocations must be made only on the basis of likelihood of enemy attack, vulnerability, and the importance of war industries in each area.

A list of cities in the "target areas" has been prepared by the OCD and war department. These areas extend 300 miles inland from the Atlantic, Pacific and gulf coasts and embrace 33 other inland cities where war goods are being turned out.

Each city under 200,000 population, as a general rule, will receive one auxiliary fire-

Japs At Gates Of Capital As Dutch Retreat

Outnumbered Five-to-One, Defenders Try to Re-Form Lines for Quick Assault; Soerabaja Reported Under Artillery Fire.

BULLETIN

BANDOENG—(INS)—Japanese forces have broken through the northern defenses of Bandoeng, it was officially admitted today. The situation on the western part of Java now is "critical," it was stated.

(By International News Service)

BANDOENG—The battle for possession of Java approached its climax today as the zero hour for a decisive Japanese assault on Bandoeng drew near.

Already the enemy was knocking at the defenses of Bandoeng, provisional capital and military headquarters of the Netherlands East Indies, and Dutch defenders were rushing preparations for a last stand.

Outnumbered five to one on the ground and lacking planes, tanks and mortars, the Dutch continued to retreat amid indications that Gen. Hein Ter Poorten, the N. E. I. commander, was experiencing difficulty in extricating and reorganizing his troops.

The Dutch leader was attempting to reform his lines for a counter-attack which observers felt must be launched immediately if the swift Japanese onslaught can be checked.

Without such a counter-attack, it was conceded, Java's situation is fraught with grave danger

Everywhere in Bandoeng preparations for the "worst" were being rushed.

Government offices and business houses were burning their papers.

At all corners of the city there was evidence that Bandoeng is a front-line community under siege. The rumble of artillery could be heard plainly even above the traffic noise in the center of the town.

All last night was passed under a continuous air raid alert and conditions of total blackout.

(The Vichy news agency reported from Saigon, French Indo-China—which is dominated by Japan—that the Soerabaja naval base on Java island already is under Jap artillery fire and is "expected to fall soon."

(This account said the Japanese, aided by 10-ton tanks and a powerful air force, were advancing along the railway toward Rangkasbitung, where

DECLARES U. S. HAS PLENTY OF SCRAP RUBBER

New York Dealer Challenges Henderson Statement on Civilian Supply.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The war production board today ordered the manufacture of all radios and phonographs for civilian use to be discontinued after April 22. The move was taken to allow the radio and phonograph industry to be converted to war production. Manufacture of parts for repair and replacements will be continued.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Challenging Price Administrator Leon Henderson's statements concerning the rubber shortage, Elliott E. Simpson, New York independent rubber dealer, today asserted there is enough scrap rubber available in the United States to take care of the nation's civilian needs for the duration of the war.

Simpson, a director of the Drexsage Rubber company, of New York, one of the largest independent rubber firms in the country, has turned over an 18-page document on available rubber supplies to the senate committee investigating national defense.

"I was astounded at Leon Henderson's statement concerning the rubber shortage situation," Simpson said. "There is absolutely no need for the government to consider the requisitioning of tires from private civilian cars in order to meet defense needs.

"I can only assume that Mr.

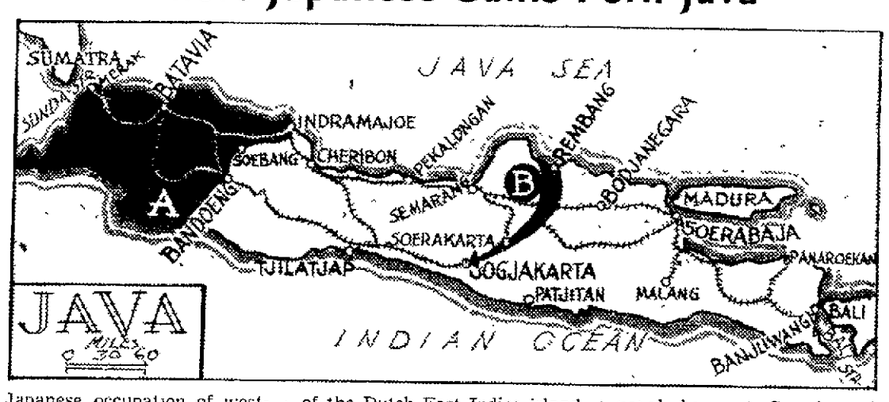
Where Japanese Gains Peril Java



Japanese occupation of western Java, including the capital city of Batavia is shown in the above map. Today, the battle for Bandoeng, temporary capital of the Dutch East Indies island, was under way. The Japs have cut the island in two pieces by an advance across from Rembang to Sogjakarta. The great naval base at Soerabaja has been destroyed and abandoned—it is now useless both to the island defenders and the Japanese if they should capture it.

WIFE FAILS TO RETURN WITH SOLDIER'S BODY

Ashland Widow Who Left to Accompany Body Home Being Hunted By Police.

ASHLAND—Ashland police and army authorities at Camp Shelby, Miss., today sought Mrs. Mary Louise Snyder, 18-year-old widow of a Nankin, O., soldier who was killed a week ago in a traffic accident at New Orleans, La., after the girl failed to return to Ashland with her husband's body.

Her father, Roscoe Willis, Spencer, R. D. 1, told authorities that Mrs. Snyder went to Camp Shelby, Miss., early this week to accompany the body of her husband, Wilbur Glenn Snyder, back home. There has been no word from her since she telegraphed her father that she arrived safely at Camp Shelby.

Snyder's body arrived here Thursday and funeral services were conducted yesterday. Because of Mrs. Snyder's absence, however, the body was placed in the Ashland mausoleum following the services.

Snyder, who left Ashland county in 1940 with a National Guard unit, died of burns he received when the army ambulance he was driving overturned and caught fire near New Orleans last Saturday night. A companion, Robert H. Bowles, 20, of Ashland, was injured in the mishap.

A member of Snyder's company at Camp Shelby returned to Ashland with the body and it was understood today that he had returned to camp. He was unable to provide any information as to Mrs. Snyder's whereabouts.

She had been living at the home of her father near Spencer while her husband was in the army, it was learned. The girl's parents are separated. Her mother lives in Jeromesville.

POLICE SEARCH FOR MOLESTER

Assailant Hunted by Officers In Attempted Attack on 2 Mansfield Women.

Search was being made today by Mansfield police for a 25-year-old blond youth who police believe attempted to attack two Mansfield women last night on North Mulberry street shortly after breaking into a nearby residence.

Police said that Mrs. Mary Cotsenmoyer and Miss Mary Rahall, both of 93 Orchard street, reported that the youth accosted them as they were walking on Mulberry street near Aten way.

Mrs. Cotsenmoyer reported that the man grabbed her and hit her on the left side of the face. She said that she broke loose from him and that when she called for help, he ran north on Springmill street and turned west. Miss Rahall was not molested.

Police searched the neighborhood but were unable to locate any suspicious persons. Mrs. Cotsenmoyer described her assailant as being five feet, ten inches in height, 145 pounds, blond, and wearing high top shoes and dark trousers. He wore no hat or coat.

Police said they believed the youth was the same person who broke into the home of James W. Rosser, 436½ North Mulberry street, and stole a small safety-box containinly a $1 bill and two $10 checks.

$498 Paid City Ends Waterworks Insurance Dispute

A dispute over insurance on Mansfield's waterworks system during the past three months appeared to have been settled today when the city was given a check for $498.95 in payment of a claim for a 33-hour break-down of operations at Maxwell Springs pumping station.

The money was paid this morning to Mayor W. J. Locke by Earl A. McFarland, former Republican mayor and head of the Holibaugh-Wolfe Insurance company, which wrote the waterworks policy.

The dispute arose when City Auditor Paul L. Kelley refused to pay the $1,500 premium for the policy purchased last November by Locke from McFarland's company.

ENGINE KILLS MOTHER OF 2

Mrs. Hazel Marie Long, 30, Dies at Crossing In Crestline; Children Escape.

CRESTLINE—Mrs. Hazel Marie Long, 30-year-old mother of two small children was instantly killed here last night when struck by a locomotive at the Thoman street crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad while returning home from a movie.

Police said they were told by witnesses that the woman apparently failed to see the engine, which was backing across the crossing. Officers said three unidentified children who accompanied her jumped to safety.

Crawford County Coroner O. A. Kackley said the woman's body was badly mangled before the locomotive was signaled to a stop by a crossing watchman.

A life-long resident of Crawford county, Mrs. Long is survived by her husband, H. R. Long; a son, Charles, and a daughter, Margie, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Albright of Crestline, and three brothers, Floyd and Charles of Shelby and Jesse of Crestline.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. today at the Beck Funeral home. Rev. Simon A. Metzger, pastor of the First English Lutheran church will officiate. Burial will be in Ontario cemetery.

SPEARHEAD: Reds Slash Close To Vyazma; 40,000 Nazis Slain

(By Associated Press)

A Russian spearhead was reported to have slashed to a point within artillery range of Naziheld Vyazma today and the Soviet government declared Red army troops had killed 40,000 Germans on the central front alone in a 28-day period ended March 5.

Stockholm advices to the London Daily Herald said the Russians had reoccupied Losmino, a village six miles south of Vyazma, which lies on the Moscow-Smolensk highway 125 miles west of Moscow.

The Soviet information bureau made no specific claim as to Losmino, but said several populated places were occupied yesterday in a continued advance marked by repulse of German counterattacks. It said 263 villages and towns on the central front had been recaptured from Feb. 6 to March 5.

The London Times urged immediate British action to bring about an agreement with Russia and the United States which would minimize Soviet anxiety concerning prosecution of the war and postwar plans.

"There is a doubt," it said, "a growing inclination among Soviet leaders to feel that Russia has been called upon, with indirect and insufficient help from her allies, to bear the main brunt of Hitler's assault."

Four Killed as Munitions Truck Explodes, Burns

SMITHFIELD, N. C. — (AP) — Four persons were killed and more than 100 were reported injured near here today when a truck loaded with 30,000 pounds of high explosives and live ammunition caught fire and exploded. The thunderous detonation rocked the land for miles around. A hotel building, a filling station, and a tavern were leveled to the ground.

Most of the casualties were bystanders who had watched the truck, at first involved in a highway intersection collision, burn for almost two hours before exploding.

State Highway Patrolman H. C. Bobbitt said the explosion, heard 25 miles away, occurred at 3 a. m. The auto-truck collision took place at 1:15 a. m., and firemen summoned from nearby Selma and Smithfield had succeeded in extinguishing the fire in the automobile when they were forced to return to their stations for water.

Bystanders and persons in the nearby Talton hotel and Gurkins tavern in the roadside community watched as the flames gained headway again and soon consumed the truck.

GAS RATIONING?

Clamp on Sale of Motor Fuel Now Appears Certain.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Gasoline rationing appeared virtually inevitable today, with officials already organizing details of this newest wartime restriction on the civilian public.

Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes promised action "soon" on a report on rationing, expected from an oil industry subcommittee meeting in New York. There is a possibility a rationing order might come within a week.

Ickes reported Thursday that the rationing program already had been worked out by his office and that of Price Administrator Leon Henderson.

He did not make its details public but it was understood that it calls for millions of rationing cards, that it will be administered by the OPC's five regional committees.

PAPER PRICE 4 CENTS

BINGHAMTON—The Binghamton Press and the Binghamton Sun will increase the price of single copies from three cents to four cents and the carrier delivery price from 18 to 20 cents a week, effective Monday. Both papers said the "increased cost of materials" prompted the change in prices.

BUT IS THIS U. S. DEFENSE?

Senator Byrd Investigates Report OCD Has Bowling Coordinator.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D) Va., today was seeking to find out whether the Office of Civilian Defense has established a "bowling coordinator" to promote bowling as a part of defense.

Bowling is a fine sport, he says, but hardly a part of a program to protect people from bombing raids.

He directed a letter to James Landis, OCD director, on behalf of the joint congressional economy committee, seeking full information on reports of such a position.

ON BICYCLES

Shelby Police Use 'Wheel' to Save Fuel, Motorbike Tires.

SHELBY — Shelby police surprised Shelby residents yesterday when one of the members of the department rode a bicycle to the police station.

The police have purchased the bicycle for use on short trips to conserve tires and gasoline.

Patrolman William Ewalt made the first "trial run" on the bicycle Friday, to the Municipal Electric Co. Patrolman Frank Cline rode it back to headquarters.

The police had planned to purchase a motorcycle but decided on a bicycle to save gasoline and maintenance expense.

DIE IN FIRE

Two Adults, Baby Trapped In Rooming House Blaze.

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Two adults and a baby were burned to death today in a fire that trapped screaming tenants in a three-story rooming house which was not equipped with fire escapes.

Six other persons were injured jumping from windows when the flames swept up stairways, trapping them. Mrs. Betty Hasara, 22 and her eight-month-old baby, Lucille, were among the victims.

Finds Only 26 of 567 Pupils Have Perfect Teeth

Reporting on their first week of activity in Mansfield, state health department technicians announced today that only 26 pupils of the 567 examined at Bowman street school since Tuesday were without dental defects.

Dr. William B. Wild, city-county health commissioner, said that a total of 897 teeth needing dental attention was found among the 341 children with defective teeth. Sixteen of the 26 children with perfect teeth were in the first grade at the school.

Forty-seven of the pupils were found to have 72 dental filling in permanent teeth and had 70 permanent teeth extract-

And Wife's Very Happy That Wound Wasn't Serious.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — "I am very, very happy that it was not serious."

That was the reaction of Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley today when informed by International News Service today that her husband, the American Minister to New Zealand and former secretary of war, had been slightly wounded in the shoulder during a Japanese air raid on Port Darwin, Australia.

15 MISSING

Norwegian Steamship Hit By Torpedo In Atlantic.

KEY WEST, Fla—(INS)—Fifteen men were missing and presumed lost today in the torpedoing of the 2,850-ton Norwegian steamship Leif, ten survivors from which were landed safely here after they had ridden out a two-day storm in a lifeboat.

Fourteen others, out of a crew of 25, were belived to have perished when a second life boat proved unable to weather the severe storm, and sank. One crew member went down with the steamship itself.

The lone American citizen involved in the sinking, which the navy department announced occurred "somewhere in the Atlantic," was Martin J. Stuart of Brooklyn, N. Y. He was apparently one of the fourteen who went down with the lifeboat.

BLOOD NEEDED

Physicians Seek Unusual Type For Transfusion.

DETROIT (INS)- An urgent call was sent out today for fresh blood from a person who has recovered from staphycoccus aureus septicemia, Detroit osteopathic hospital officials announced.

Dr. Fred Rutherford, a staff surgeon at the institution, is fighting for his life against the rare disease, and a transfusion is needed, hospital attaches said.

Free French Aid In Desert Capture

CAIRO — (INS) — A column of Free French troops fighting with British imperials in Libya captured the Garrison of an Axis desert post, the Middle East command announced today.

Other Free French troops captured an enemy position at Fezzan after a violent fight, the communique said.

Activity generally was confined to patrolling and air activity was restricted by unfavorable weather.

CAPTURE: Jap Forces Seize Small Island Close to Luzon

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—A small force of Japanese troops and tanks has been landed on the island of Mindoro, which lies just south of Luzon, the war department announced today.

At the same time, Japanese naval craft shelled several ports along the east coast of Mindoro, the department said.

It did not elaborate, but it believed the attacks on the island represented a further step in Japan's effort to subjugate secondary islands in the Philippines which were disregarded during the initial phases of the war.

Mindoro is the largest of the so-called Visayan group in the Philippines. It is one of the most sparsely populated of the islands but is very rich in natural resources such as minerals.

The war department's morning communique also reported "desultory fighting between patrols" on the outskirts of Zamboanga, on the island of Mindanao, where Japanese troops landed earlier this week. The department said Wednesday that the city of Zamboanga was "in flames."

"Except for slight artillery fire and an ineffective air raid, there was no activity on Bataan," the department said of the last 24 hours in that theater where the bulk of the American forces under Gen. Douglas MacArthur are holding out.

Meanwhile, observers say the possibility that Japan's drive to smash remaining allied resistance in Java and Burma—if the drive is successful—might free additional Nipponese air and ground forces for action against MacArthur's Batan defenders.

GEN. JOHNSON:

By GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON

WASHINGTON—Now comes a bill to double the pay of all non-commissioned soldiers in our new and rapidly expanding army. It now ranges from $21 a month for the first six months, upward to much greater figures in the higher non-commissioned grades.

We already pay our soldiers several times the actual pay received by men of most other armies. If you add the increasing cost of the best diet, shelter and clothing of any other troops, allowances for dependents and later pensions, bonuses and the like, our army costs many times as much per man as that of any other army in history.

Gen. Johnson.

All this as to care and consideration for the welfare of our military and naval personnel is not more than should be expected of such a country as ours. But this business of raising base pay from $21 to $42 per month with other grades and pay rates in proportion is smelly. At least it has a sort of chicken-feed aspect which fits badly with the noble profession of arms.

Usually the project has been advanced as a plan to increase volunteering. That tends to put military service on a hateful mercenary basis and knocks the heart out of the high argument for selective service.

There isn't enough money in the world adequately to pay a man for leaving his home, his family and his prospects of a career, to go out in defense of his country and its institutions, and risk all these and also his life or health or means of livelihood.

To try to win men over to that kind of sacrifice with a lousy little $21 a month, figuring that they would not do it otherwise, is almost an insult to them. It is at least a sign of a considerable degradation in the appraisal by the government of the character and mental outlook of this generation of young men.

Perhaps it is a natural outgrowth of the tendency of recent years in this country to encourage the belief that government stands ready to do for a man whatever he is unable or unwilling to do for himself—and to do it by giving him unearned dollars out of the public wealth.

Farmers, labor, the unemployed and many other classes have been encouraged to rely on the government for this. It would be a pity to classify military service in a similar category.

Thank God it is proved to be wholly unnecessary. No nation ever responded more whole-heartedly and unanimously to the call for military duty than have our young men to selective service.

I am aware of one argument that is used in all these cases of class-handouts:

"Everybody else who is part of a potential political organization that demanded it is getting theirs. You had better be getting yours while the getting is good."

It is a pretty effective argument, because, if you aren't one of the takers, you or your people are going to be among the givers.

Military service stands apart. It is a primitive thing. From old tribal days a man lived under the protection of his fellows from attacks by strangers. This raised a sort of moral obligation—a "social compact"—to pay for that protection, should the need ever arise, by service in community defense.

It was not a service to be paid for. It was a payment of a debt incurred in the enjoyment of security throughout years of peace.

Thus it has always been from the earliest days of even savage tribes and among people of our blood. Pay adequate to the scant needs of a soldier's life is a necessity, but we have already provided that and anything beyond that cheapens military service.

SABOTAGE FIRE DESTROYS WAR METAL PLANT

Flames Sweep Through Wood Structure at Las Vegas; Iowa Probe Pushed.

(By International News Service)

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—Fire which swept through the administration building of Basic Magnesium, Inc., last night, burning it to the ground, was bluntly attributed to sabotage today.

L. G. McNeil, president of the McNeil Construction company, the concern which is building the nation's largest magnesium plant for basic, asserted that there was no question but that the fire was deliberately set.

He said that the fire was started outside the building at a point where a strong northwest wind would sweep the flames through the wooden structure.

The building blazed fiercely for two hours and although all Las Vegas fire-fighting equipment was rushed 11 miles to the scene, it was a complete loss.

It was an "H" shaped wooden structure, with one wing occupied by the office staff of the basic company and the other wing occupied by the administrative and engineering staff of the McNeil Construction company.

Hundreds of sets of drawings and thousands of dollars worth of office equipment were lost in the fire. However, it was said that the construction company has duplicate sets of the destroyed drawings.

The production units of the plant, still under construction, were some distance away and were not endangered by the blaze.

The first unit of the plant is scheduled to start production late in April or early May. When all units have been completed it will be the nation's largest magnesium producer.

PROBE SPURRED

BURLINGTON, Ia.—(INS)—A board of high army officials headed by Lieut. Gen. William S. Knudsen, chief of war production, today pressed an investigation into the explosion which killed 21 munitions workers at the Iowa ordnance plant.

Sixteen bodies have been recovered. Workers searched the wreckage of a three-story shell loading building, where the explosion occurred late Wednesday night, for the bodies of five missing employes. Forty-two men were injured.

DROPS CHARGES

Judge Domestic Troubles Led To Arrest of Trio.

Charges against three Mansfield residents, two of them members of a company of musical entertainers, were dismissed yesterday afternoon in probate court by Judge Stuart H. Cramer who said he found that the case involved nothing more than domestic difficulties.

The trio, including Mrs. Jeannette Poff, 28; Miss Margaret Harper, 18, both singers, and William Smallwood, 35, was cited on charges of contributing to the delinquency of Mrs. Poff's three small children. The affidavits were signed by the father of the children, Louis Poff.

Testimony at the hearing brought out that Poff had not contributed to the support of his family since last December, Judge Cramer said. Mrs. Poff left home Jan. 24 with the children and had been living at the same rooming house with Miss Harper and Smallwood, according to the husband's affidavits.

Attorneys C. J. Kalbfleisch and John L. Catlett represented the defendants at the hearing.

Judge Cramer continued indefinitely another case involving an 18-year-old boy and a 15-year-old girl, both of Mansfield. A charge filed by the girl's father accused the youth of contributing to her delinquency.

FREEZE ORDER CAUSES STIR

Typewriter Companies Deluged With Inquiries From Those Renting Machines.

Mansfield typewriter companies have been deluged with inquiries from rental customers and prospective buyers since WPB orders froze close to 300 new and used typewriters in the stocks of four local distributors yesterday and prohibited the rentals of all typewriters as of April 1.

The inquiries came largely from the 540 rental customers in the city who were anxious to know whether their machines must be returned to the distributors at once or could be kept until April 1.

The secretary-manager of one typewriter company that supplies approximately 400 of the rental machines, said today that he had received no direct word concerning rentals other than that all machines must be returned by the first of the month.

He added that he understood the order would definitely affect the home user but was not certain whether it would apply to offices and industries that have been obtaining machines on a rental basis for some time in the past.

PEOPLE READING PAPERS LONGER

Advertising Chief Says Ads on Increase In Effectiveness.

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— The average American reads his newspaper at least half an hour longer since Pearl Harbor, in the opinion of President Don Belding of the Pacific Advertising association.

Belding told the annual convention of the Ice Industries association of California.

"Our surveys show that advertising has greatly increased in its effectiveness since the war began. There is more and better reading of papers because of the interest in war news, and people have more time to read the paper because of the tire shortage and changed living habits.

W. R. McKEE DIES

Former Mansfield Resident Succumbs At Ellwood, Pa.

William R. McKee, 82, a former resident of Mansfield, died early today in Ellwood Pa., where he had been visiting at the home of a daughter.

He left Mansfield several years ago, and since that time has been dividing his time between the daughter and a son in Toledo. He was a member of the United Presbyterian church.

The body will be brought to Mansfield tomorrow and taken to the Finefrock funeral home, where services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Monday. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

BUCYRUS—A life-long resident of Crawford county, Miss Diana Parcher, 62, of North Robinson died here Friday at the home of her sister, Mrs. M. J. Quaintance, following a long illness.

Surviving are a brother, Merrill J., of North Robinson, and her sister with whom she had made her home in recent months.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Wise Funeral home. Rev. W. J. Spring, pastor of North Robinson United Brethren church of which she was a member, will officiate. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

REPORTS POSSIBLE SHORTAGE OF BITUMINOUS COAL IN U. S.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A possible shortage of bituminous coal, which might necessitate federal allocation of available supplies, was foreseen today by the office of solid fuels coordination.

Howard Gray, acting director of solid fuels coordination, advised Secretary Ickes, the coordinator, that consumers generally had failed to store coal to protect themselves against possible shortages, despite repeated appeals from Washington.

"In face of a substantial reduction in the number of days' supply of bituminous coal held in consumers' stockpiles as of February 1," Gay said, "the obviously complacent attitude of consumers and dealers alike toward storing reserve fuel is making it more likely that an emergency may occur which would necessitate the allocation of coal by the United States government to protect war industries' fuel supply.

His report showed that soft coal held in consumers' bins and yards as of February 1 represented an average of 31 days supply, compared with an average of 40 days on January 1, and 43 days on Last December 1.

"There still is ample mine and production capacity for consumers to build up stockpiles as insurance against interruptions in their customary supply caused by war," said Gray. "But they are moving too slowly."

MEET SUNDAY

Tire Rationers of County to Convene In Special Session.

To consider the new problems that have been placed in their hands, the local tire rationing boards of Richland county were called today to a general meeting in the city building at 2 p. m. Sunday.

The boards will take up the numerous questions that have risen since new car rationing started and was added to their former job of rationing tires and tubes, according to James Bailey, chairman of the Mansfield board and county rationing coordinator, who issued the call for the meeting.

The boards also will consider their part in the program of rationing sugar, Bailey said.

BOWLERS MEET

Ashland Lawn Club To Plan For Season Tuesday.

ASHLAND—The annual meeting of the Ashland Lawn Bowling club will be held at the Y. M. C. A. here at 7.30 p. m. Tuesday to make plans for the forthcoming season. W. A. Brattin, secretary of the club, said he expected a greater interest in lawn bowling next summer due to the curtailment of travel.

Last year, he said, a number of Mansfielders evidenced interest in the Ashland club's activities and he urged all interested Mansfielders to attend Tuesday's meeting.

SALVATION ARMY HEAD GIVES TALK

Hoffman Tells Council of Organization's Work.

An interpretation of the Mansfield Salvation Army's manifold program was given to the Mansfield Council of Community Fund Agencies by Adjt. Paul Hoffman yesterday at the monthly Council luncheon at Mansfield General hospital.

The adjutant explained the different phases of the Army's program including the blind school, juvenile detention home, domestic bureau, recreational and handicraft classes, educational classes including music and Bible study, and the family welfare department for both families and transients.

Miss Eleanor Bond, Girl Scout executive secretary, arranged the program. Ralph Chapman, Council president, presided, and Miss Veronica Hanley, chairman of the recently organized, hospital committee, was introduced.

INJURIES FATAL

DAYTON—(INS)—Joseph Horine, 23, of West Manchester, was dead today of injuries suffered when he was struck by an automobile in suburban Moraine City.

"I told this gentleman you just left for South America, Mr. Jones. Did you miss the boat?"

UP and DOWN THE STREET

The "first robin" reports were quickly outmoded today as the spring-like weather brought out scores of robins in the city. They sang from tree tops and twittered in real April style in front yards all over the city. Joining in the concert were song sparrows and a number of other early spring birds. Freeman Wert, 12, of 397 Lincoln avenue, reported seeing three robins together near his home.

Members of the Mansfield Y. M. C. A., who have been called into active service in Uncle Sam's armed forces, have had their names inscribed on a Roll of Honor in the Y office. Ralph Chapman has entered their names on a large poster decorated with a large "V" for victory. Chapman hopes to obtain pictures of the members to place on the honor roll. About 30 names have been entered on the list to date.

At the request of her own husband, a Mansfield woman was lodged in the city jail last night after she and two friends had celebrated to the excessive stage. The husband telephoned police headquarters and asked officers to arrst his wife and another couple who had been drinking at his home on North Main street. This morning the trio pleaded guilty to intoxication charges in municipal court and were each fined $5 and costs.

Ralph Carroll, probation officer, is good-naturedly taking a lot of ribbing over his attempted fancy skating demonstration the other day. Carroll, accompanied by John Eisaman, school truant officer, dropped into the Salvation Army citadel during the blind school roller skating hour. Impressed with the way the sightless students were enjoying themselves Carroll said that he had been quite a fancy skater in his day and offered to teach the class a few turns not in the book. He had no more than started when he took a tumble . . . then another . . . then another and finally he gave up and said he guessed he would "just stick to plain skating hereafter."

MEET TONIGHT

Farmers Confer at Shiloh on Vegetable Production.

Joining in the "food-for-freedom" campaign, farmers in northern Richland county will meet at 8 p. m., today in the Shiloh town hall to discuss the growing of tomatoes and other vegetables on a large scale for canning this summer.

County Agent George B. Ganyard said the discussion will be headed by Ross Irons, representing a Bellevue canning firm.

Farmers in the level northern section of the county have expressed a willingness to grow a large quantity of tomatoes this year if they can work out a marketing plan that will bring them nearer canneries, the agent said.

There were no tomato canning plants closer than Fremont and Bowling Green last year, he said, making it unprofitable for Richland county farmers to grow tomatoes except for home consumption.

Farmers throughout the nation have been asked by the federal government to produce more meat, eggs, milk, and vegetables this year to help the democracies win the war.

OHIOAN AND 5 OTHERS MISS DEATH PENALTY

Jury Convicts Operatives As Core of Espionage Ring; Can Get 20 Years.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Cocky Kurt Frederick Ludwig, native Ohioan, and five of his hand-picked operatives, described by the government as the core of a Nazi spy ring, were convicted of espionage conspiracy last night but escaped the death penalty because their crimes preceded Pearl Harbor.

The six, including a Long Island housewife, will be called for sentence next Friday, the 13th, with 20 years each as the maximum terms.

An all-male jury deliberated only two hours and 40 minutes in returning their blanket verdict in the nation's first espionage trial since war's spread to the United States. It was the government's second heavy blow at German spies, however, for 33 persons, convicted in a previous trial, were sentenced here Jan. 2.

Those convicted last night were:

Ludwig, 38, born in Fremont, O., but a resident of Germany most of his life.

Mrs. Helen Pauline Mayer, 26, the Long Island housewife.

Dr. Paul T. Borchardt, 53, a former German army major who analyzed the data collected.

Frederick Schlosser, 19, who found out when ships would sail.

Carl Victor Mueller, 36, a machinist who helped collect production figures.

When the verdict was read, Dr. Borchardt wiped his eyes. Later Mrs. Mayer cried. The rest stoically.

Three other members of the ring pleaded guilty and also will be sentenced next week. They were, Lucy Boehler, Ludwig's 18-year-old blond secretary who was the government's chief witness; Hans (Bubi) Pagel, 20, and Carl Herrman Schroetter, Miami boat captain.

U. S. Attorney Mathias Correa said the ring extended to Spain, Portugal, China and South America. He hailed the verdict as "a great victory for the cause of justice and democracy."

7 Feared Dead as Transport Crashes In Florida Storm

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla—(INS)—Although no bodies have been recovered, hope was abandoned today for seven men who were aboard a twin-engined army transport plane when it crashed near Stuart, Fla.

The transport was caught in a severe squall, which apparently wrenched a wing off of it, and it fell in flames into the St. Lucie river inlet near Stuart early Thursday, according to eyewitnesses.

The missing airmen, were from Patterson field, Dayton, O., and from the air depot at Middleton, Pa. At Patterson field, they were identified as:

Lieut. John R. Evans, of Auburndale, Mass., the pilot; Lieut. Harry E. Bullock, jr., of Lexington, Ky., co-pilot; Sergt. Ercel Stallard, of Lathair, Ky., aviation engineer; Corp. Clarence F. Ayers, of Huntington, W. Va., radio operator. Lieut. Raymond D. Clements, Lieut. H. Simpson, and Sergt. John A. Rutko, all from the air depot at Middletown, whose home addresses were not available at Dayton.

HITS AD RULE

Speakers Say Dentists Should Drop Restrictions.

DAYTON — The message that they should abolish ethical restrictions against advertising was left here today with western Ohio dentists by Dr. George W. Crane of Northwestern university.

Dr. Crane told the group at a meeting here that the rejection of many draftees because of faulty teeth indicates dentists have failed to explain their true functions. For that reason, he said, they should drop their restrictions on advertising.

'COON CHASE SET

Ray Herrod today announced a 'coon chase to be held tomorrow starting at Spiker's Grove, Marion avenue road, at 1 p. m. with 100 per cent of the $2 entry fees paid in the finals.

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

You Can't Print That!

(A compendium of tales that can't be told with names, because they're too true to print. If you find in them any resemblance to actual persons—living or dead—you've probably guessed right.)

TOMMY is one of our more famous cinema Thespians — so red hot at the box office that it's a poor year in which he doesn't pay income tax on a quarter of a mil, as the boys say.

Kilgallen

Those who know him only by sight and brief interviews, such as the fan magazine writers, like to stress the fact that he's "regular." They devote plenty of space to his kindness to shoe shine boys and broken down extras and other needy cases. By a strange coincidence, all his quiet little gestures—a dollar here, a fiver there—seem to be fully reported in the movie columns.

Not so many years ago Tommy wasn't a rich movie actor. He was a stooge around the Broadway cabarets, who ran errands for the big racketeers of the time. They liked him and staked him to eating money and bought him a suit now and then.

One of the boys who was especially nice to him was Big Mack. Big Mack always gave him a little but more than the others did, and a couple of times when Tommy was in danger of being beaten up for trying to steal some other fellow's girl, it was Big Mack who saved his handsome features from becoming a bloody pulp.

But it's all different today.

A couple of weeks ago Big Mack who is not wanted around New York by the coppers, found himself in Los Angeles and very broke. What was more natural than for him to seek out his old pal Tommy, because of course he could borrow a little walking around money from the famous star.

He went to Tommy and asked for $200. And you can picture his surprise when Tommy gave him a quick "no."

Big Mack is brooding about it now. He's getting madder and madder. And if you knew Big Mack you would not want him brooding in your direction, or getting madder and madder at you. Because as the old timers will tell you, "he just ain't responsible."

But you can't print that. What right has Big Mack to even approach his old stooge Tommy? After all, he is merely a hoodlum, and Tommy is a famous star.

And here's a You-Can't-Print That that concerns the whole nation. It stars a wealthy brewing family in a great Middle Western city. They are violently pro-Nazi, as are their relatives, an equally famous family of another name. In their city, and in not-so-far-away Chicago, their activities are a scandal, because they are actively sponsoring a pro-Nazi campaign.

Of course, they are a menace to the nation. But the irony in their menace is that long ago they sold their "name" to another brewing concern from which they are reaping huge royalties. The gentleman who owns that concern and pays them the royalties—is a Jew.

But you can't print that. You can only suggest that the FBI look into it—and maybe they're doing that already.

Three Others Injured as Flames Gut Hunting Lodge.

FORT DIX, N. J. —(INS)— One soldier was burned to death and three others were injured today when flames gutted a hunting lodge in which they were sleeping while on outpost duty near Fort Dix.

Private Ceylon A. Gibbs, 24, Flushing, Mich., was burned to death when trapped on the second floor of the blazing building. The three injured were Privates Walter B. Eisenhardt, Boonton, N. J., John Maloney, the Bronx, N. Y., and Sergeant Clifford P. Stack, Brooklyn, N. Y.

VIEW BODY

SAN FRANCISCO — (U.P.) — The body of Tom Mooney lay in state today while thousands of his friends from the ranks of labor passed by the bier to pay final homage to one of the nation's most celebrated labor "martyrs."

A public funeral will be held for Mooney at the Civic auditorium tomorrow afternoon, perhaps with an address by Gov. Culbert L. Olson climaxing the eulogies of labor leaders.

HELSINKI BOMBED

VICHY — (INS) — French dispatches from Helsinki said today that seven bombs were dropped on the Finnish capital early this morning, causing slight damage. Anti-aircraft batteries went into action, the reports said.

are filled with tremendous eagerness to get at grips with the Japs. They stand on the decks in their life jackets for hours.

"We are taking no chances. This warship carries planes designed to deal with submarines which fly far ahead, looking for trouble.

"Those who are wondering what the American fleet is going to do had best listen to the captain of this ship, who said:

"'Just stick around here a while, and you'll see plenty of action.'

"You won't hear immediately about these naval actions . . . because to announce them would help the enemy.

"It is a strange, eerie kind of war in which the superiority of the American cruisers, destroyers, aircraft carriers and personnel is slowly beginning to tell. Every naval officer here is careful not to underestimate the Japanese and is convinced it is going to be a long, hard battle."

(The recent raid by United States naval task forces on the Marshall and Gilbert islands in the Pacific were part of the American campaign to establish a firm supply line across the Pacific.

(Recent statements by naval officials revealed the navy has been hard at work at this task, which was described by Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the fleet, as the principal job of the Pacific fleet for the present.)

Gives Recital on Anniversary as Church Organist

Lawrence S. Frank will begin his sixth year as organist and minister of music for the Park avenue Baptist church with an organ recital assisted by vocal selections by Mrs. Frank tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

He is the director of music at John Simpson junior high school.

Mrs. Frank, a soprano, will sing "My Heart Ever Faithful" by Bach, "I Met My Master" by Evans, "The Way of the Cross" by Morgan, "Vesper" by Townsley and "Adore and Be Still" by Gounod.

For his numbers Frank has selected "Allegro from Sonata 5" by Bach, "Adagio from Suite Latine" by Widor, "Echo" by Yon, "Minute from Fourth Symphony" by Vierne, "Cathedral Prelude" by Clokey, "Ronde Francaise" by Boellman and "Allegro from Fourth Symphony" by Vierne.

A graduate of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music and Oberlin college, Frank received both his bachelor of arts and music degrees there before attending the Eastman school of music where he took a master of music degree. He has also attended Westminster choir school in Princeton, N. J., and Ohio State university for additional work in music.

PLEDGES AID

Murray Warns Labor Must Not Interrupt War Output.

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Organized labor today had the warning of CIO President Philip Murray that the war is "labor's war" and that "nothing must be allowed to interrupt war production."

Pledging labor's support to the production goals set by President Roosevelt, Murray said that "we must continue to be leaders in the demand for more production and for every step necessary to win the war."

DECLARES U. S. HAS RUBBER

New York Dealer Challenges Henderson Statement on Civilian Supply.

Henderson's sources of information are incomplete. There are millions of tons of scrap rubber available in the United States. The amount available is sufficient to meet civilian tire retreading needs for the duration of the war.

"Mr. Henderson states that the reclaiming facilities of the country would permit the reclaiming of only about 350,000 tons of rubber per year. He apparently overlooks the fact that these facilities can be increased to a million tons or more by the simple process of refixing the machinery now installed in rubber manufacturing plants and in second-hand machines available in dealers stocks.

"A source of scrap rubber available in this country which no one in the government has mentioned are the crepe soled rubber shoes. There are between 25,000,000 and 50,000,000 pairs of crepe soled shoes in the hands of the American people.

"These shoes, if reclaimed, would produce enough crude rubber to provide for the retreading of passenger cars for the next ten years under the new methods of processing.

"There has been terrible shortsightedness in Washington concerning the rubber situation. There is plenty of wild rubber available in the western hemisphere to meet America's needs if someone had possessed the foresight to buy it up for the government.

"There is wild rubber in Central as well as South America. There are millions of acres of guayule growing in nearby Mexico which could be made available to us in a very short time, either by establishing rubber sheet factories in that country or shipping the shrub to our borders. The factories could be set up within 60 to 90 days."

Jack Whitehead, president of the Norwalk Tire and Rubber company, of Norwalk, Conn., said that with 2,000 tons of crude rubber and some of the available scrap rubber his firm could retread every passenger car in the country.

"With two ounces of crude rubber and five pounds of reclaimed rubber, we can build a retread tire that will give 5,000 miles of usage at 40 miles per hour," he said. "There is no reason why the American people should be deprived of their cars because of any rubber shortage."

DECISIVE JAVA BATTLE NEARS; DUTCH RETREAT

Forced Back as Japs Approach Gates of Bandoeng, Capital City.

furious fighting was said to be raging. It added the Dutch were resisting fiercely and launching "unsuccessful counter-attacks.")

For everyone on Java island, from the richest Indies merchant to the humblest worker, ordinary ways of life have disappeared.

Ceremony in hotels has been shelved for a happy-go-lucky serve yourself plan. Residents stand before long tables on which prepared food has been laid and eat with one ear cocked for anti-aircraft fire or the roar of airplane engines—ready to dive for cover if bombs begin to fall.

Preparations for defense of Bandoeng are complete. But realization of the tremendous odds in favor of the Japs has compelled everyone in Bandoeng to turn his thoughts to the hills, where a last ditch stand may have to be made if the city is evacuated.

Meanwhile, exhausted and battered by bombs, the defending Dutch troops were at bay in the hills east and west of Bandoeng, fighting doggedly in an effort to ward off the anticipated Japanese smash.

Lacking air support and cut off from hope of reinforcement, the defending United Nations troops made a grim, back-to-the-wall stand as observers in Bandoeng conceded the chances of saving Java are slim.

Batavia, the Netherlands East Indies capital, was in Japanese hands and the great naval base of Soerabaja was isolated. The main defense positions stretched on either side of Bandoeng, provisional capital and chief remaining center of resistance.

Latest advices said the Japs were drawing closer to Soerabaja, where the night was rent by huge explosions as the Dutch ruthlessly destroyed naval installations in a new and gigantic application of the "scorched earth."

The main and decisive battle was still to be fought on the Bandoeng plains. But so heavy was the Japanese assault that the sound of the battle, formerly a rattle of gunfire, now was a steady roar of thunder as it drew closer to Bandoeng.

Despite lack of aerial and tank support, for which they still hoped despite the knowledge that it would be vir

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, MARCH 7, 1942.

Drive carefully tomorrow—and don't forget to have your tires checked for inflation and defects.

For those who ponder about "what might have been," it may be remarked that regrets won't win the war.

Now that the "impossible" has been happening with considerable regularity, it appears that the word should be more carefully used.

Batavia Falls, Japs Move Along

NOW it is Batavia, on the island of Java, capital of the Dutch East Indies, that must be added to the steadily growing list of Japanese conquests.

Rangoon will probably be next victim of a concentration of Japanese power sufficient to overwhelm the outnumbered defenders—only on Batan peninsula does General MacArthur seem able to outsmart and outfight the enemy, and that can't go on indefinitely unless some way is found to get reinforcements and supplies to him.

The Japanese were wonderfully well prepared—in mechanized equipment, supplies and trained manpower—for the war they started by sneak attacks on Pearl Harbor and other Pacific bases three months ago today.

Their plans were made far in advance and have thus far been moving along with a military precision which, under other circumstances, might be considered admirable.

Germany was also ready for war, and not until unexpectedly strong resistance was met in Russia, did the Hitler war machine run into serious obstacles to planned aggression.

Great Britain, France and the United States were too busily engaged in the pursuits of peace, and too confident of over-estimated power, to pay much heed to danger signals in advance of actual attack. Enemy nations were thus given all the early advantages, and, even now, many Americans evidence lack of realization that this country is in danger of invasion and possible overthrow of freedom.

Reports are received daily of heavy loss of life in the fighting that is going on in other parts of the world—and it somehow seems difficult to grasp that the United States now has a part in the war and that much of the responsibility for success or failure rests upon this nation.

Thus far profits, wages, working hours, higher farm prices, minor inconveniences, and the like, have seemed more important than concentration on war efforts.

An election is coming along this year and some congressmen are still putting politics and self aggrandizement above national interest. Some of the New Deal ideology is also hampering war effort and wasting money needed for military expenditures. Some high positions in the public service are still held by people unqualified for other than peacetime routine.

The stern fact must be faced that, as of today, the United Nations are losing the war. It is being said that "the tide is now turning"—as, of course, it MUST turn, for there can be no doubt of the final outcome—but it will be those who give service, labor, blood and lives to the war effort who will deserve credit when victory comes . . . not those who seek to advance personal or group interests at a time when the fate of their country hangs in the balance.

New Asia May Emerge From War

ASSOCIATED with the world-shaking events of war, Asia seems to be in the midst of a renaissance, a new birth coming to the oldest of continents and civilizations. The obvious example is the resurrection of China under the leadership of Chiang Kai-Shek. We may be now on the eve of a similar resurrection in India, signalized by the British granting self-government to that vast and populous country.

Another example, less pleasing and less civilized, is the militarization of Japan and its efforts toward over-lordship of Asia. Western nations should be able to get along with China and India because they tend to democracy, whereas Japan is and probably will continue a military aristocracy.

These vast changes, coming in connection with a war that covers the world, give Americans plenty to think about. For a generation, perhaps, life will be unusually interesting. It will take continuous effort, fast work and considerable study to keep abreast of the times and on top of trouble.

Final Chapter In Mooney Case

WITH his release from San Quentin prison three years ago, the glamor of "martyrdom" fell away from Tom Mooney, labor leader of a past era, and little had been heard of him after realization that his prominence depended on imprisonment rather than freedom.

While Mooney steadfastly denied participation in the San Francisco preparedness day bombing, back in 1916, evidence against him, and his record as a "direct actionist," resulted in a first degree murder conviction, with death sentence, which was later commuted to life imprisonment.

His twenty-two years of servitude were marked by unabated efforts of sympathizers to secure his release, and this was finally accomplished, after which, except for a few admirers of the tenaciousness with which he clung to his principles, "the Mooney case" was relegated to the archives of labor's changing modes.

New Goals for Athletes

CORNELIUS WARMERDAM, California schoolteacher, has just pole vaulted 15 feet, 7 inches. Back in 1908 W. R. Dray astonished the world by clearing 12 feet 9½ inches, and daring prophets announced that 13 feet might yet be achieved within the lifetime of living men. Now they are talking of 16 feet, and some are wondering what the limit will untimately be.

That of course is something nobody knows. But war department figures show that the average soldier is somewhat taller and heavier than he was in 1917, so it is no wonder that athletes are getting better. Certainly the medical profession's researches into diet and hygiene should have some effect.

As a part of his explanation Hitler point out that this has been the most severe Russian winter in 100 years—but Stalin is doing everything possible to make it hot for him.

A question being asked in the east is: "Does Ham Fish know enough to be a congressman?"—but why confine it to Ham Fish?

Thus far the exodus of parasites from Washington hasn't even helped boost the Florida tourist business.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—It is becoming more and more likely that some drastic—and I mean drastic—congressional action will be taken soon to provide government agencies with new weapons to combat fifth columnists and spies.

There is no serious criticism of the work being done by existing agencies. But ever since Pearl Harbor, there has been a growing list of discovered fifth column activities.

FBI agents recently picked up more than 50 suspects in Dallas county, Texas, with cameras, radios, weapons. Thirteen German and Italians aliens, all purportedly in possession of munitions and other suspicious equipment, were picked up near an important airplane factory in New Jersey.

There was a series of similar arrests in New Orleans. In San Antonio, suspects were caught with code books, maps of vital military establishments, binoculars, weapons and gas masks.

IN Norfolk, Va., federal agents arrested German and Italian aliens with short wave receiving sets, cameras and ammunition. Spy trials in New York and Washington have brought out alarming testimony as to pre-war activity of enemy agents.

On the west coast, civilian observers stated that just before that submarine shelling near Santa Barbara, lights flashed from the hills as if signalling a ship at sea. An employe of the Navy Magazine at Bellevue, District of Columbia, was arrested on a traffic charge and through an error was searched. Police said they found secret bomb mechanisms, a list of consignments of ammunition to several defense posts.

The deluge has given Washington officials the jitters. Already the necessity for a search and seizure warrant in spy cases has been removed. By executive order and justice department rulings, other restrictions against counter-espionage work have been lifted. From the west coast particularly come complaints that existing measures are inadequate.

I ASKED a high counter-espionage official where he thought the real problem lies.

"Espionage can be fought effectively," he said. "It is the so-called fifth column that is the real problem. A good fifth columnist is a model citizen. His very effectiveness depends on it. He may even be contributing to OUR war effort while waiting to give aid and assistance to the enemy.

"With existing laws, we can deal with the spies and saboteurs, but how to handle the fifth columnists without starting a nation-wide witch-hunt is another problem."

A lot of Washington observers are saying now that the United States will have to get tough and very tough—even if it steps on innocent toes—if this country is to avoid danger of the fifth column catastrophe that has fallen on almost every nation attacked by the Axis.

—By JAMES R. YOUNG

Editor's Note—Following is another of a series of articles by James R. Young, for 13 years chief of the Tokyo bureau of International News Service, on fifth column activities on the west coast.

(Written Expressly for International News Service.)

MANY Japanese, including high officials from a Tokyo police headquarters dominated by the Nazi embassy there, have carried on subversive operations on the Pacific coast.

Shinto and Buddhist temples, language schools, culture groups and secret police have been the channels of transmitting Japanese designs to stir trouble in the United States. Two high Tokyo gestapo agents have been seized in recent roundups. Three men disguised as priests, were arrested. A mysterious fire broke in the Yokohama Specie bank at San Francisco.

The Japanese have followed the system in this country which they used with success in China since 1932 by utilizing teachers and "priests" to cloak the identity of the sneaking culprits, a method familiar with the Nazis in Poland and the Netherlands. Maid servants and house boys similarly were planted in important homes and offices.

No Americans were allowed to so operate in Japan. But in disguise, through trick passports and falsification, Japanese agents entered the United States from Berlin and Tokyo. The Axis has been no myth. It has been directed by well financed and specially trained men, some of them using diplomatic immunity to achieve their purpose.

RECENT FBI arrests were on a small scale, but sufficiently important material and individuals have been caught to present a cross section of the existing dangers which will be further eliminated by the army authorities under Gen. John L. DeWitt.

The mysterious Japanese colony on the Spiegel ranch in California was a major net for the nearly 200 agents and local officers under Special FBI Agent Nat J. Pieper in their dawn patrol raids. Thousands of other Japanese, it is feared, were given the obvious warning to dispose or hide arms, radios, cameras, ammunition, uniforms, maps and signals.

The army move this week follows a justice department order for registration of aliens and the turning in of contraband. A total ban, approaching martial law, had been asked by the house committee on the Pacific coast. Its members, in seeking evidence of sabotage, pointed to aliens who cloak their disloyalty under certain citizenship claims.

FARTHER inland, on my three-week investigation, I found Houston, Tex., open to Jap sabotage. Karl N. Howard, head of the Texas Police association, remarked that while local peace officers have an efficient and cooperative group, a danger remained.

Every alien, it was and is still argued, must be removed from oil refineries and pipe lines, from the Houston ship channel, warehouses and from important fields. The port handles 80 percent of our oil supplies and the bulk of cotton. One Normandie replica would close the channel, it was illustrated.

Less than one percent of an estimated 2,000 aliens appeared in Houston for registration.

I can now reveal that J. Edgar Hoover sent a special agent direct from his office to Los Angeles and on Jan. 19 there began the solution of a puzzling alien situation under an avalanche of dynamite material.

Two weeks later, with no more Washington restrictions from either the state or justice departments, Hoover's men acted as warnings were recognized that delay might mean a revival of the vigilantes, with their historic motto, shoot first and argue later. Angered civilian groups were far from complacent.

Man About Manhattan

Story Material

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Virgilia Peterson is an American girl who married Prince Paul Sapieha of Poland and became a princess.

"Beyond This Shore" is a new novel about an American girl who marries a Polish diplomat, witnesses the destruction of Europe, and gets out with her children just in time.

Therefore, it was natural for me to inquire, "Princess how much of this book is autobiographical?"

She seemed surprised. "Why, none of it, and yet on the other hand all of it. I can write only about the things I know and have seen. It would have been stupid to write about a Rumanian or a Hungarian when I am married to a Pole, when I lived in Warsaw, and when I know the Polish people and the conditions there."

I KNEW that she had recently lectured in a hundred cities, that she had written a best seller titled "Polish Profile" which was altogether autobiographical, that her husband and her children were in this country, that "Beyond This Shore" (Lippincott) was her first novel, that she was understandably on tender hooks until the reviews came out and the public's acceptance or rejection of her novel became plain, that she loathed appeasers and that she believes nothing less than an all-out effort . . . even by the women and the children, the halt and the lame . . . can win this war.

"That's what the girl in the novel thought, too, but I'm not that girl. I didn't fall in love with a newspaper man. That incident at the German embassy in Warsaw never really happened. I made it up. It isn't my story. It is just a story against a background of people and events that I know."

I said, "Princess, do you feel that people are complacent still—about the war, I mean?"

"In a way," she replied, "there is danger in slogans. The one about time being on our side, especially. It isn't. Time runs against us. Why? Conquered people can't go on being shot and seeing their children starved forever. If help doesn't come, and hope, and encouragement, they'll have to give in. A man can't endure ten years or five years of horror unless he knows that salvation is coming. The Dutch, the Belgians, the Czechs, they can't endure torture forever. We've got to hurry . . . hurry!"

IT SEEMED strange to look at this young woman whose friends call her Jilly, who went to Vassar and dreamed of becoming a writer—it seemed strange to think that as the wife of a prince she saw Austria crumble, and Czechoslovakia, then Poland, Holland, France . . .

To see her, you might think she had never been out of New York. She is tall and quick, both in speech and movement, and essentially American. You'd never know that at 20 she went down with infantile paralysis.

"It still bothers me a little," she said. "In Poland, where people place such emphasis on sports, I couldn't ride. My husband had such fine horses."

It may be, as she says, that it still bothers her. But as she moved about the room, answering a telephone here, a doorbell there, I thought she resembled nothing so much as a lithe tennis player. And a good one at that.

Spoils of Office.

A widely-known authority on public administration in Chicago the other day was discussing problems of municipal government in the United States. Is it possible, he was asked, to conduct the business of an American community on honest, efficient nonpartisan lines for any considerable length of time, or are corruption and the spoils of office an essential feature of our political practice?

"Each of the larger cities," he replied, "is a special case. Many middle-sized American towns long ago achieved a consistently high level in the management of their affairs, and in the last twenty years, I should say, there has been a distinct improvement in city government all up and down the line. But you can't generalize for the big communities.

"New York has surprised a lot of people by maintaining an excellent government now for three terms. Chicago, on the other hand, never seems to get good administration—or even to want it—whichever party is in power. In spite of what has looked like several close shaves, Cincinnati has succeeded in holding on to its governmental reforms year after year."—Kansas City Star.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Air Forces Are Given Equality In Army Reorganization Move

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

CRITICS used to complain that the war department was so cumbersomely and complexly organized that even the generals had only a hazy notion of the department's entire set-up.

On Monday the president ordered a sweeping streamlining of the entire department. The army was reorganized after the German model, with military functions grouped into three basic units:

Army ground forces

Army air forces

Services of supply

Aside from the simplification of the army (the bureaus and commands of a half dozen or more generals were abolished) the main feature of the reorganization was that the army air forces were given equality with the combined ground arms.

Gen. George Marshall remains as chief of staff of the whole army. Lieut. Gen. Lesley McNair will head the ground forces, Maj-Gen. Brehon Somerville, the supply services—and Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold will command the enhanced air forces.

Priority on Soldiers.

A worried constituent wrote his congressman a demand that the army send troops to guard all bridges across the Mississippi. The congressman forwarded the demand to Chief of State Marshall who disclosed that such requests to protect points within the U. S. were "piling up in a forbidding manner."

At first, he said, the army had tried to fill such requests. But now, he said, it was time the U. S. proceeded "with the business of carrying the war to the enemy." The army could not be dispersed and immobilized throughout the U. S.

He opined that enemy submarine raids close to shore were intended to frighten Americans into insisting troops be kept at home. Further, he said, isolated air raids for the same purpose might follow. During the week the number of victims off the Atlantic coast approached 50 ships. One was the old destroyer Jacob Jones. Only 11 crewmen survived.

At Home

West Coast's Worries.

During a lull on the Batan front, playful veterans of the American-Filipino forces proposed that Gen. MacArthur rush aid to embattled California.

But Californians and other inhabitants of the west coast were deadly serious in viewing their Nipponese neighbors with alarm.

The Dies committee in Washington added to their worries by asserting that the west cost was "still in the gravest peril" from Japanese attack.

Many demanded that all the Japanese—alien and native born alike—be moved pronto east of the Sierra. More than 100,000 Japanese have been living on the west coast.

But inland states were no more anxious to have the Japanese. The army announced that military necessity, not public clamor, would decide what would be done about evacuating the 200,000 enemy aliens.

Size of Things to Come.

As the deadline for filing income taxes approached many grim American taxpayers were knee deep in calculations.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau took the occasion to advise taxpayers that if they thought taxes were too tough now, wait till next year! He disclosed how the treasury is asking permission to collect about $9,610,000,000 in added taxes then.

If a man earns $2,500 in 1942 the treasury would like to have these income taxes:

Single man	$345
Man with wife	175
Married, with two dependents	32

Most taxpayers would be asked to pay twice as much as this year.

Corporation rates also would be raised. The present corporation surtax of 6 to 7% would be replaced by a surtax of 16 to 31%. Rates on "excess profits," now 35 to 60%, would be raised to 50 to 75%.

Increased excises (candy, pop, gum, liquor, cigarettes, etc.) would raise $1,340,000,000.

Dilemma In Detroit.

Originally, the million-dollar Sojourner Truth defense housing project in northeastern Detroit was built for Negro occupancy. Residents of the area—predominantly white—complained that Negro occupancy would depreciate the value of their homes.

So loud were the complaints that federal officials changed their minds and specified white occupancy. Negroes complained. The decision was switched back to Negro occupancy.

When the day arrived for Negroes to move in white pickets with bars, clubs and bricks surrounded the project before dawn, stoned the vans as they arrived. Hours later a truck load of Negroes carrying pipes appeared. Another battle ensued.

Seventeen persons were injured. The problem again went back to Washington.

Abroad

Invasion Talk.

At least 3,750,000 armed men—not counting Americans who have arrived—are biding their time on the British Isles. More than half are fully-trained army men. They are on guard against a German invasion.

Maxim Litvinoff, Russian ambassador to Washington, may have had his eyes on these troops when he called on Russia's allies to beat Hitler to the punch with a widespread springtime offensive.

He said pointedly that Russia would like to see all the allied forces put into action by spring where they could be used best. "Only by simultaneous offensive operations on two or more fronts separated by long distances," he pointed out, can "Hitler's armed forces be disposed of . . ."

Confidently, he offered the opinion that Hitler could in this way be destroyed by the summer.

Squeeze on Vichy.

The squeeze tightened on Vichy. American impatience with her collaboration with the Nazis brought an assurance from Vichy that she would not lend military aid to the Axis, particularly any aid involving French warships.

Nonetheless the U. S. slapped her by recognizing French islands in the Pacific as being under the "effective control" of the Free French.

And on Tuesday night the British threw down the gantlet to Vichy by uncorking a devastating bombing attack on the huge Renault motor works southwest of Paris and on other large factories in the area. Britons say Renault was making transport vehicles, tanks and plane motors for Germany.

Nazi 'Pillage.'

At lease 500,000 Greeks probably will die from hunger this winter and one whole generation appears already to be doomed. Dog meat in Greece costs $1.60 per pound and cats are $4 a piece whenever such "luxuries" are available.

The above statements are taken from a report by the Inter-Allied Information committee in London. It blames Greece's plight on Germany's organized "pilage masquerading as purchase" in Occupied Europe. Of other countries under Nazi control it says the food situation in Belgium is "simply terrifying" and that Poland literally is starving.

On the other hand it reports that the German army and people in the Reich are living well, in some cases better than at pre-war levels.

India's Peril.

For more than a week the Japanese were stymied along the Sittang river, near the Rangoon-Mandalay road in Burma. The American volunteer "Flying Tigers" knocked down 54 planes of the Rising Sun in two days. But the British were not optimistic about the future. They expected the enemy drive through Burma toward India to assume more formidable proportions. Wednesday night Britons were pushed back from the Sittang.

General Wavell was already in India shaping a defense. As a sequel to Wavell's transfer British sources indicated that an offer of Dominion status would be made the Indians in the hope of winning more completely their support for the war.

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

Condition, Not Theory.

It is to Grover Cleveland that we owe the trenchant line, "It is a condition which confronts us—not a theory."

Ardent exponent of free trade and its concomitant of low import imposts, he made the statement in allusion to the tariff in his annual message of 1887.

Cleveland agreed with Disraeli, who, almost half a century earlier, addressing the house of commons, had said, "Free trade is not a principle, it is an expedient."

Which brings to mind another Cleveland line which at the time became and ever since has remained an important item in the political lexicon. In an interview in the New York Commercial Advertizer Sept. 19, 1889, he explained: "Party honesty is party expediency."

D. A. R. CHAPTER HAS ANNIVERSARY DINNER

Jared Mansfield Group Celebrates Birthday at Grace Episcopal Church; Recognition Pins Are Presented.

MRS. LESTER A. LUSHER of Perrysburg was guest of honor at the birthday dinner of Jared Mansfield chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, which was held Friday night in the parlors of the Grace Episcopal church. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. James Bailey, Mrs. James Lucas, Mrs. William Fendrick, Miss Mary Eggert and Miss Margaret Gaver.

Mrs. Lusher, state chairman for the Good Citizenship Pilgrimage contest, talked to the 65 members and guests on the recent citizenship test which was given to 401 girls in the state. She read parts of the papers written by the six highest in the state. Winner of first place will have a free trip to Washington in April and the six will attend the state conference in Akron next week.

Mrs. John Shook, chaplain, led the devotions and Mrs. Arthur Courtney led the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Mrs. S. A. Richardson, regent, conducted a short business session and gave her report on the chapter's activities for the year.

The regent then introduced Mrs. David Roller, regent, and Mrs. C. G. Hillier, chapter chairman good citizenship pilgrimage contest, both from Mary Washington chapter. Mrs. Roller congratulated the chapter on its twenty-third birthday and spoke of the cooperation of Mary Washington and Jared Mansfield chapters on the citizenship contest.

On behalf of both chapters Mrs. Lusher presented recognition pins to Barbara McDowell, Mary Pollock and Jean Berger, three of the seven girls in this county who participated in the contest.

Mrs. A. C. Tuttle reported on the nutrition council for defense which is planning classes in the city. The program was concluded with the signing of patriotic songs.

The next meeting will be April 4, at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Buhr, 3 Glenbeck Lane.

DEGREE TEAM.

Degree team of Lady Garfield Council, No. 24, Daughters of America, held its regular meeting Friday evening at the home of Miss Mary Beilstein, 75 West First street. Twenty-two members were in attendance. Mrs. Fannie Nail, vice president, conducted the business session. Games and contests were played and prizes won by Mrs. Arbie Kimes, Mrs. Elizabeth Croskey and Mrs. Ethel Sams. Luncheon was served at small tables decorated with patriotic appointments. Time and place for the next meeting will be announced later.

Patriotic Party Given for Eight Sorority Pledges

Beta Kappa Tau sorority members gave a patriotic party for the pledges at the John's park pavilion Friday evening. All members and pledges were dressed in red, white and blue. Prize for the most appropriately dressed was given to Miss Elaine Downs. Bridge was played and prizes of defense stamps won by Mrs. Leslie Snyder and Mrs. Maxwell Cochran.

Luncheon was served buffet style from a long table centered with a V-for-victory made of white mints and decorated with red, white and blue mints. Pledges present at the party were Miss Barbara Berno, Mrs. Maxwell Cochran, Miss Downs, Mrs. John Dunn, Miss Maxine Pearson, Mrs. Leslie Snyder, Miss Betty Uhlich and Miss Eleanor Ropp.

Mrs. William Knarr and Mrs. Wayne Terry, also pledges of the group, were not in attendance. The committee in charge of arrangements was Miss Ruby Bollman, Miss Betty Baki, Miss Marjorie Underwood and Mrs. George Burgess. The next social meeting of the group will be held March 15, the place to be announced later.

Nurses Organize Club at Meeting

Twenty-five undergraduate and practical nurses met this week to organize the Nurses' Club and to make plans for Red Cross training and instructions for care of the sick. Mrs. Dick Perez was elected president of the club.

Other officers are Miss Helen Lanzen, vice president; Mrs. J. P. Hecht, treasurer; and Mrs. Edward Gale, secretary. The club will meet on the first Monday of each month in the Eagles hall.

Farewell Tea Given In Honor Of Mrs. Lanehart

Honoring Mrs. Harvey Lanehart, who will move to Washington, D. C., on April 1, Mrs. David N. Roller gave a tea at her home Friday afternoon. Mrs. Lanehart is president of the Women's Guild of the First Presbyterian church. Guests were officers of the Guild and chairmen of the church circles.

Games and contests were enjoyed. Recipients of prizes were the Misses Edith and Frances Douglas, Mrs. George Fox and Miss Geneva Craig. Color scheme for the table was yellow and green. Attractive floral arrangement consisted of yellow jonquils and fuchia.

A handkerchief shower was given for Mrs. Lanehart. The gifts were presented in a large basket to which a yellow bow and bouquet of violets had been fastened. Mrs. Lanehart expressed her appreciation and short talks were given by various members of the group.

Missionary Group Depicts History Of Its Society

When the Missionary Society of the First United Brethren church met on Thursday, the subject for the program was "Faith Is the Victory." Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. P. E. Swihart and Mrs. Ethel Loos comprised the committee. History of the Missionary Association was given in story and song by Mrs. Earl Crider, Mrs. P. W. Brown and Mrs. Dwight Kunkel.

Mrs. Miller gave a talk on "What Is Wrong and What Is Needed." Reports on missionaries stationed in the Philippines. Officers elected are Mrs. Leonard Hutzelman, president; Mrs. P. W. Brown, secretary; Mrs. A. J. Stevenson, treasurer; Mrs. Edward Underwood, secretary of literature; Mrs. Earl Crider, secretary of stewardship; Mrs. H. M. Hout, thank offering secretary; Mrs. Crider, pianist; and Mrs. Dwight Kunkel, chorister. Next meeting will be held at the church on April 1.

Interesting Talk Given By Mrs. David R. Talbot

"Sculpturing and Museum Pieces" was the subject of a very interesting talk given by Mrs. David R. Talbot for the Art Study club on Friday. Mrs. George Moore, 140 Prospect street, entertained 27 members and two guests, Mrs. Irving Cutting and Mrs. Henry Paulsen, at her home. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Ralph Race and Mrs. D. Harry Landers.

Mrs. Talbot, who has traveled extensively, described famous art galleries which she has visited in Mexico City, Chicago, Detroit, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Washington, D. C. She told her impressions of the sculpture exhibits and explained the messages which such pieces of art convey. Mrs. Talbot said that sculpture is a challenge to the present generation as "It stands for the highest and best in living."

Tea was served by Mrs. M. Vale Scouten and Mrs. Carl Spangler at a table attractively decorated with orange calendula and yellow snapdragons. Announcement was made that an invitation has been received from the American Association of University Women to attend the exhibit of wood sculpturing by John Rudd, to be presented in the John Sherman room of the Public Library March 15 to 22.

Hostess for the meeting to be held March 20 will be Mrs. Charles Chew, 610 Highland avenue. She will be assisted by Mrs. J. E. Fendrick and Mrs. Robert Morris. Mrs. M. M. Collins will present the paper for the program.

Beta Kappa Tau Has Business Meeting

Miss Holly Baker was elected to succeed Mrs. Edward Hinz as vice president, when members of Beta Kappa Tau sorority held their business meeting in the club rooms Thursday. Mrs. Hinz has moved to Columbus. Miss Wilma Sauder was named good will secretary to replace Mrs. Myron Hilligoss.

Plans were made to have a St. Patrick's party on Friday, March 13. Next regular meeting will be held in the club rooms on March 19.

Piano Recital To Be Given on Monday Evening

Invitations have been issued for the piano recital in which Marie Porterfield is presenting Mrs. Robert Beatty Monday at 8:15 p. m. at the Porterfield home, 278 West Fourth street.

Mrs. Beatty will be assisted by Mrs. Porterfield in the final number of the program, the Allegro movement from Beethoven's "Concerto In E Flat Major." Mrs. Porterfield will be at the second piano.

This is the first time that Mrs. Beatty has presented a complete program in the city and she will play the following selections: "Prelude and Fugue, C. Minor," Bach; the Allegro and Allegretto from "Sonata, F Major," Mozart; "Impromptu, E Flat Major," Schubert, and "Nocturne, E Flat Major," and "Polonaise, C Sharp Major," Chopin.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, March 8.

Sunday's horoscope may be favorable for all manner of spiritual, cultural, community, group and public affairs, which should rise to heights of activity and promise. Nevertheless there may be signs of delay, disruptions, and surprising turns to events, which may be hopelessly nullified and bungled by indulgence in arguments, quarrels, rash and impetuous conduct. With cautions in this respect there should be much harmony and gratification.

Those whose birthday it is may have a successful and prosperous year if they will shun all reckless, violent, wayward and impetuous behavior carrying it to excess and regret. A diplomatic, tactful, courteous and carefully planned strategy, especially in public and group affairs, may avert dangerous, disintegrating and disappointing circumstances and defeat. Make no hasty or rash decisions. Guard against accidents, when traveling especially.

A child born on this day may be disposed to, be reckless, headstrong, passionate and violent, erratic and ungovernable, thus inviting self-defeat.

For Monday, March 9.

Monday's astrological forecast is not a propitious one, showing prospect of danger and self-undoing through indulgent, extravagant, excessive and unwarranted practices which are bound to run at cross purposes with the best interests and to arouse the antagonism of those in high places and authority.

An overweaning pursuit of pleasure may lead to loss of credit, standing and also influential friends and well wishers. Safeguard these rigidly.

Those whose birthday it is may be the creators of their own defeat and downfall by indulgence or an exaggerated pursuit of pleasure, outlay of funds and other excesses with extravagance, unwarranted arousing the opposition of friends and those in place and power. Safeguard these, and the financial credit, as well as personal reputation and happiness, will remain steadfast.

have early training and discipline

A child born on this day should in economy, thrift and honor, with a moderation of its aims toward indulgence. It should be personally popular and attractive.

What Not Club Holds Meeting

What Not club members held a meeting Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William Maglott, 33 Chilton avenue. Mrs. Amox Laux, vice president, conducted the business meeting. Two new members, the Misses Mary Mostetter and Maxine Fogle, were welcomed into the club.

Pinochle was the diversion of the evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. Paul Woodhull and Mrs. Laux. Luncheon was served at a long table decorated with appointments in keeping with St. Patrick's day. The next meeting of the club will be held April 3 at the home of Mrs. Edward Harpster.

PROGRAM PRESENTED AT SOCIETY MEETING

Mrs. Nellie Gates Reviews Book at Meeting Friday of Lucretia Hedges Missionary Society of First Methodist Church.

CHAPTER XXI

At the end of the first week Judith walked to Harriet's home for dinner, passing familiar houses in which she had often been as a child. It was cold and the wind was blowing, but already there were signs of spring.

She had a decision to make and she had told her mother she would walk rather than ride because she wanted to be alone.

Where was the efficient, self-contained, self-sufficient Judith now? Confused, drifting, still drifting, a brown-clad figure walking to Harriet's house on a cold day in March which was to have been one of her days with Max. And Fay probably was with him still. Wasn't it odd that she could feel only mildly jealous? No sharp jealousy of Fay and Max's being together stabbed her. Would that come later? She thought, "Perhaps you can stand just so much and I don't dare include jealousy with the rest of it. Or maybe I can't be jealous of her. I can't be fair and be jealous of her. Are they married? If only I knew that . . . But would it matter if they were? I love Max and hate him all in the same moment, but the hate doesn't last. Only the love lasts . . . and hope, this vain, senseless hope."

She could not continue like this. She must think clearly. And first she must return to New York to work . . . But the thought of the apartment without Emily and with some strange girl living with her was painful to contemplate. Even if the girl were satisfactory, what then? Her work, of course. But you could not work always. Sid Biddison and Phyllis and Ames and the other friends she had not seen for a long time — that was all and it was so little.

The other alternative—remain in Clinton. That was not especially pleasant to contemplate either, but it was, she admitted, pleasanter than returning to New York. At least here were no reminders of Max other than the charm bracelet she continued to wear. At least here she would be relieved of the responsibility of the apartment and the expense. Yet in trying to decide between the two she knew that she desperately needed her family, that their love comforted her and that her presence once more in the home gave them joy. She could get a job in Clinton and remain here until she was mentally and emotionally well again. Then she would return to New York. To become a lone successful person? She thought, "I must not try to think beyond now. When I look ahead and can't see Max, my thoughts go in circles crazily. I feel desperate. I want to go out. Be extinguished like turning off a light so that I can't think at all or want him."

Harriet's house was a small white brick structure with green shutters. Straight little cedar trees grew around it and a crooked stone path led to the front door. This was the center of Harriet's existence, this house constantly worked over and worried over.

Harriet, neat in a dark dress, opened the door and Judith stepped inside into the living room furnished with overstuffed pieces, a little faded and stained.

"Didn't you come in the car?" Harriet asked. "I thought Dad was leaving it home for you."

"I told him to take it this morning, that I'd walk." She took off the brimmed brown felt hat and the short brown sports coat. "Where are the children? It's so quiet."

Harriet laughed. "I got rid of the two imps this afternoon and it is so quiet I wonder if I'm home. It's little Phil Reed's birthday and Ada is giving him a party. She's showing movies to them." Later she said, "I thought of asking Steve to dinner tonight—and didn't. He enjoys my cooking. But I didn't ask him because I didn't know how you'd feel about it. I didn't think you'd want him to get too fond of you. There are plenty of nice girls here."

Stephen? Oh, yes. She had to make herself remember him.

"I don't want to hurt him, Harriet, even if I could." She smiled. "But a good dinner is something else again and you should have asked him." She looked at her sister. "I'm going to be one of the girls in Clinton, too. I've decided to try to get a job at Overton's and come home for a while."

Harriet's dark eyes opened wide. "Why, Judith, that's wonderful! That's the best news I've had in ages! But why? Or shouldn't I ask?"

Judith wanted to tell her about Max, but couldn't . . . Later perhaps . . . not now.

"Of course you may ask. Things have changed for me in New York. I miss Emily and—"

She could say no more and no doubt Harriet sensed it.

Harriet said, "I'm so happy about you doing this. You know how happy it will make Mother and Dad? Do they know? I've learned that probably the worst feeling a mother can have is that her children don't need her any longer. Mine work me nearly to death, but they need me. And now I'm really going to see something of you! I couldn't afford to come up to New York to see you."

Presently the children came home, brought by a neighbor, and the house was filled with their voices. They climbed over Judith and demanded to be read to and she was reading to them when Larry, Harriet's husband, came home. Harriet came out of the kitchen to welcome him and the children left Judith and ran to him. The usual marriage with the usual man, Judith thought, watching the cheery, noisy, domestic scene.

After the children had been fed and put to bed, Harriet served a delicious dinner.

Larry said, "I'll take care of the boys tonight and you and Judith go to a movie. I'll wash the dishes so you can go early."

And when Harriet was driving into town in the small, old car she said, "Larry is so good, Judith. He was tired tonight. When I get away from him and the house and the children, I realize how lucky I am. Sometimes you have to get away from the things and people to appreciate them."

"In New York Stephen was telling me about the conditions in his and Larry's office."

"Pretty bad conditions, aren't they—for Steve?" There's such a thing as being too smart for your job. It's Forbes or Steve and I think Steve will go. The whole thing is, of course, that Forbes is afraid of his job. I don't know what Steve will do. Go back to Baltimore probably. I'll miss him. Because I'm interested in him only as a friend, he's a comfortable person to have about, but a lot of girls here are excited about him. He's such good husband material running around loose and so good-looking."

"He's a nice boy."

"He's more than just a nice boy. He's honest and fair. He could, if he wanted to press the issue, have Forbes ousted. But where could Forbes find another seven thousand-a-year-job? He couldn't, and Steve knows that. He knows Mrs. Forbes and the two girls, too."

"If Stephen goes, then Larry will be made Forbes' assistant, won't he?"

"If they don't bring in another man from outside. But I think Larry will get it this time. Forbes will want him because he isn't afraid of him. But it does seem a pity that Steve has to go so that Larry can step in. Probably Steve has thought of that. He knows what an increase and a promotion would mean to Larry and me."

Three hours later Harriet drove away from the Barth home and Judith went in. Her mother was working on needlepoint and her father was talking to her. After so many years of marriage, they could still find something to talk and laugh about.

Isobel Barth looked up and smiled.

Judith looked at her father when she said, "Do you think the new advertising manager at Overton's would give me a job?"

He grinned. "I'm sure he would. Shall I speak to him about it?"

"No. I'll see him."

Her mother looked puzzled. "Why, Judith, I don't understand. Have you two something between you?"

Nicholas said, "Judith is coming home, dear."

"To live? To stay, you mean?"

Judith said, "Yes. I'm going to New York tomorrow and get my affairs there straightened out and then come back."

Tears filled Isobel's eyes. "But I won't have you throw away your chances, Judith. I won't have you do it for us. I'd rather go on getting little peeks at you occasionally the way it has been than for you to give up something important to you."

"It isn't important anymore. I'm doing it because I want to."

"And your things in New York, furniture?"

"I'll store it."

"You'll do nothing of the sort. The attic here is large and empty. Plenty of room for it. You'll want it again . . . But, dear, I simply won't be happy about this until you tell me you are doing this of your own accord and not for us. I thought you loved it there."

"I did. But this is of my own accord." Her throat felt full. "You see, I found I needed you both again. I'm going up now. Good night."

She left the room quickly because she was afraid she was going to cry. And so she did not know that Isobel looked earnestly at her husband and asked, "Is something wrong, do you suppose, Nicholas? Why is she doing this? Is it a man?" He said, "Will it matter if we never know? It couldn't be anything else but a man—at her age? Don't pry. Don't ask her any questions."

Judith arrived in New York the following afternoon and went immediately to the store to see Giles Henson.

"You?" he asked, looking up over his cluttered desk. "Where's the sunburn? How was South America?"

South America? She almost winced.

"I didn't go. I changed my mind and went home. And I've come back, only to give up my apartment here and—and my job. It's a sudden decision, but the right one for me, I think. If you want me to stay while you get someone to take my place, I'll stay, of course."

"This is a good bit of a shock, Judith. I—I don't quite know what to say except I hate like the deuce to give you up. You're one of my best people. But you know your business better than I do. About staying on for a while, I wish you would for a few days. You're not getting married, are you?"

"No. I'm going to get a job at home."

"You have a lot of talent and a lot of sense that balances it. I'll give you a swell reference."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

TWO EXTREME METHODS

Methods of doing anything may vary from the extreme of aggressiveness, positiveness and activeness to the other extremes of defensiveness, negativeness and passiveness. This is illustrated in bridge more during the bidding than in the play. One type of bidder likes to take some wind of specific action at his very first opportunity, and at every other opportunity too. The other seems to seek reasons for early passes, not getting into the auction definitely unless he has to, or unless opportunity is kicking on his door. Which way is better? Sometimes one, sometimes the other, sometimes the middle path.

There you have both extremes on exhibit, at two tables of a duplicate game. At the first table, both North and South passed on their first turns, although both had cards enough to justify some kind of definite action. At the second table, notice how both North and South seemed anxious to press their cards, as if they couldn't show what they held unless they hurried about it.

In the first case, North and South created an illusion of great weakness by their early passes, so that they lured their vulnerable opponents over their depths. Against West, North took his top two clubs, led his diamond 7 to the A and later got two tricks in hearts, setting the contract three tricks for a score of 800.

At table 2, however, South scored 980 points by making his redoubled contract. He lost only one trick in spades and two in diamonds. The heart K was ruffed, club A taken, heart Q led for a diamond discard. West winning with the A and leading a trump. South won, led the club A and discarded another diamond on the heart J.

Your Week-End Problem.

Suppose a player gets known as one who favors opening almost any kind of fair hand with a bid of 1-Club, even when he has a short and worthless suit such as a weak doubleton or trebleton. What disadvantage is that reputation, and what advantage?

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

The manager of the Lansfield rose and went to the door, but before he opened it he put another question.

"What do you wish me to do when you come out of the entrance of the Shoreham building?"

"I should like you to remain in the taxi, sitting as far back as you can. First tell the taxi driver you are waiting for friends, then there will be no delay as we get in."

Mr. Milner's always slightly elevated eyebrows raised themselves a trifle higher.

"How long will you wish me to remain in the taxi? Please don't misunderstand me," he interrupted himself hurriedly, as my father's own eyebrows drew together in a frown. "I am at your service—for the duration. It is only that if I am to be away from the hotel for any length of time, I ought to leave certain instructions."

Gives Plan In Detail.

My father's browns unknitted.

"You will be away from the hotel less than fifteen minutes. We shall drive around several blocks, all near the hotel, until we are sure we are not being followed. Then you will be able to get a taxi and be back here within fifteen minutes.

"Then I won't need to provide for any emergency," the manager said, "and I will have the taxi waiting at the entrance to the Shoreham building. One thing more; I will have the man Shotwell waiting at the elevator doors when you come down. He will guide you to the furnace room where O'Hara will be waiting. Will that be satisfactory?"

"Perfectly," my father said, "and I thank you."

Leave In Haste.

"You are most welcome." Mr. Milner said unctuously, and bowed himself out.

"Smug, pompous ass," he said, "but satisfactorily efficient. Ah, my dear, so are you!"

This enconium, I knew, was added because I was already putting on my hat, motor coat and gloves.

"Shall I telephone for a bell boy?" I asked.

"We cannot wait for one," he answered. "Those bags are small. I can handle them easily, and when we reach the elevator the man there will take care of them. O'Hara and the other furnace man will do the rest."

I was all ready to go by the time he finished speaking, and I caught up the smaller of the two bags.

"Don't be foolish, Father," I said firmly. "This is a featherweight, and you can't handle both bags and your hat at the same time."

I smiled and was through the door before he could stop me.

"I have the key in my purse," I said. "Just shut the door hard and we'll be on our way."

He followed a bit grimly. I knew he was annoyed at me, for he never permits me, or any woman, to carry a bundle. But I kept ahead of him to the elevator, and set the bag down close to the lift, where the operator could pick it up. Then I rang for the elevator just as my father came up to me.

He said nothing, nor did I, until the elevator came. Then he gave the order for the main floor. There the man Shotwell entered the elevator bfore we could get out, and gave a curt order to the operator as soon as he had greeted us.

"Basement," he said, "and step on it."

Madison Loses, Shelby, Mansfield Win Tourney Tilts

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

The Ohio State baseball league is about to fall apart again.

It's fallen apart and then shown signs of revival so often this winter that you may not be interested in this latest collapse. But if you can stifle that yawn, read on for the gruesome details.

It seems the almost certain fact that Mansfield will not play this year now has the boys quaking in their spiked brogans.

And unless league Prexy Joe Donnelly pulls a rabbit out of the hat and brings in a big league sponsor for Mansfield, this city will not be in the league. Two months ago Joe thought he could do it, but Joe seems to have lost his touch for legerdemain.

Donnelly hadn't kept in close touch with the Mansfield situation, but he must have had some idea how the score stood. Even so, he kept telling the rest of the league that Mansfield would play, and would even have a new ball park, a myth that was born last fall but never grew past the three-cornered pants stage.

According to Dick Behr of the Fremont News-Messenger, Joe was still telling the Mansfield story at the recent Tiffin and Findlay meetings, and it was largely because they thought Mansfield was going to play that other teams decided to string along for another season.

Now Behr confesses he is much surprised at Donnelly's latest story that Sandusky and Marion are interested in taking over the Mansfield franchise.

"Neither Sandusky nor Marion can be counted upon to last past the month in which brides get in their best licks," opines Behr.

Bill Snypp, sport editor of the Lima News, continues to dish out good cheer for his readers with an encouraging boost for the Sandusky or Marion prospects.

At the same time he writes me a letter, inquiring plaintively: "What goes on over there in Mansfield?"

And expressing the opinion that neither Marion nor Sandusky could last more than half a season.

Behr believes that Donnelly is up to his "usual brand of Pollyanna wishful thinking," when he mentions such towns as Sandusky and Marion.

"Sandusky," says Behr, "has had its fill of organized ball. Marion might go, but not for long."

And regarding Donnelly's boast that the league will go with four teams if necessary, Behr says: "Pfui! The league will dwindle to one team—and out."

For want of a sponsor the Braves were lost.
For want of the Braves, the league is lost.

Lack of Size Hurts Chances of Rams

Ashland Given Scare In First Period By Tiny Opponents

MADISON HIGH SCHOOL'S RAMS, making their first start in the district Class A basketball tournament at Sandusky last night, won the hearts of the crowd, but lost the ball game to Ashland's towering quintet 19-47.

The crowd, carrying out a fine old American tradition, pulled all the way for the under-dog Rams, but Madison needed shooting power. Little Harold Hammer supplied that power during the first half, but Ashland put a pincers movement on him in the second half and spiked his guns.

Hammer was the only player in the tournament to draw a spontaneous hand from the crowd as he was removed late in the game.

Madison gave the tall A's a battle for the first quarter and halfway through the second. Although the Rams failed to score until the last three minutes of the opening period, they brought the count up to 7-8 at the quarter's close. Ashland had stepped out to a 7-0 lead early in the stanza.

Bartley and Prentice started hitting for Ashland midway in the second period, and the A's boosted their lead to 23-15 at the half.

Then came the sorry finish. Madison was held to one point in the third period and three in the fourth, and Ashland wound up the game with an entire second team on the floor.

Hammer, who led Madison with 10 points, had little difficulty faking one guard out of position for his circle pivot shots in the first half, but in the second Ashland switched its defense to guard him from both front and rear, and not even the clever Hammer could get away from two men in that pocket.

Prentice and Stentz, with 22 points between them, scored enough to win by themselves for Ashland.

Oberlin Tankmen Seek Ohio Title

GAMBIER — (AP)—Oberlin mermen who have sunk every league rival set out today to clinch the 1942 Ohio conference swim crown.

The Oberlin tanksters showed championship form last night in qualifying preliminaries, edging Kenyon's Lords, winners of the contest for four straight years.

Kenyon, whose 17-meet winning streak was blasted earlier in the reason by the lads from Oberlin, qualified 10 of its 12 contestants and its free style relay team while nine of ten made the grade for the favorites, along with the relayers.

* * *

There were no preliminaries in the medley relay, however, and Oberlin is expected to capture this event for the margin of victory.

Other teams competing are: Wooster, Wittenberg, Bowling Green, Case and Kent State.

HIESTAND LOSES

KANSAS CITY — (AP)—Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro, O., class A winner in the interstate trapshooting tourney here, was defeated by Fred Finnell of Kansas City, firing in class C, who had 147 for high gun in the class target championship.

Union Quint Defeats Dola

Lucas Loses to Wharton In Bascom Tournament.

Union's firewagon hoopsters put Dola in the doldrums last night in the opening rounds of play in the district Class B high school basketball tournament at Bascom when the Warriors edged to a 28-26 victory.

Tonight the Richland county entry takes on New Washington, victor last night over Sycamore 37-26.

Lucas didn't fare so well in the Bascom joust, losing to Wharton 22-30.

Union was forced to come from behind to take Dola, trailing 4-11 at the quarter. The Warriors bounced back for a 16-14 lead at the half, and boosted it to 24-21 at the third quarter. Although outscored again in the final session, they clung doggedly to their final two-point victory margin.

Jack Hammett, lanky center, whose bucket in the closing seconds of play won the county tournament championship for Union over Lucas, again was the Warrior hero as he connected for six buckets and a free toss for 13 points.

Leading 22-19 at the start of the final period, Lucas failed to get a single point in the closing stanza, while Wharton, firing long shots, marked up 11 points and won the ball game.

* * *

Barger led the Lucas attack with eight points. Lucas had only six free tosses in a rough game, Echelberger making good on two of the six.

Big Guns Boom In A. B. C. Joust

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Big guns of the American Bowling Congress tourney start booming over the week-end as regular teams take over the 32-alley layout and scores which look good today soon should be a dime a dozen.

Marks are lower this year than last and only one of the 450 pin blasters competing in the first four days of firing has passed the coveted 1800 all-events mark. Howard Dammel of Cincinnati racked up a creditable 1830 for top position.

Only 21 sets of 600 and better singles have been turned in by booster squad members, while the first week of the 1941 contest saw three 700's on the board.

Simmons Industrial No. 1 of Elizabeth, N. J., moved into first position in team event last night with a 2790.

Steven Illes, Jr., of Dayton, clung to the singles lead with 650 and Chester Henderson and Pearl Robinson of Lima, O., were out in front in the tandem event with their opening-day 1250.

Reserve Wins In Closing Seconds

(By Associated Press)

In a nip and tuck battle typical of Western Reserve-Case rivalry, Reserve basketeers downed their fellow townsmen last night 52-50 in a game decided in the final seconds. The win avenged an early season 52-51 defeat.

The victory put Reserve in a second place tie with John Carroll in Cleveland's Big Four race. Western Reserve Center Joe Sponseller decided the issue with an under-basket shot.

* * *

John Carroll downed Marietta 45-40 in an Ohio conference tilt highlighted by a 21-point scoring splurge by Pioneer Forward Dick Meister. Marietta led 25-24 at the half but couldn't hold the edge.

Fight Results

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Sammy Angott, 139, Washington, Pa., outpointed Bob Montgomery, 135½, Philadelphia (12) (non-title).

TAMPA, Fla.—Tommy Gomez, 184, Camp Blanding, outpointed Buddy Scott, 180, MacDill Field (10).

PHILADELPHIA — Wickey Harkins, 140, Philadelphia, won by technical knockout over Freddy Domico, 140, New York (7).

HOLLYWOOD—Manuel Ortiz, 120½, California, won by technical knockout over Little Pancho, 120, Manila (7).

Whippets Battle Ashland

Shelby Takes Tourney Win Over Port Clinton.

SHELBY WHIPPETS advanced to the quarter-finals of the Sandusky district basketball tournament last night with a convincing, if unspectacular victory over Port Clinton 28-22.

Never a high-scoring team the Whippets managed to get just enough of an edge over the Redskins in the first three periods to clinch the decision.

Port Clinton gained a scoring edge only in the final stanza, and its one-point margin in that heat bothered no one.

What Shelby lacked in scoring stars, the Whippets made up in consistency as Lewis and Clark, (not an exploring expedition) each came through with eight points, and Higgins and Bob Laubie marked up six apiece.

It was a slow-scoring game all the way, with Shelby stepping out to a 10-7 lead in the first period, and increasing it to 14-10 at the half and 20-13 at the third quarter.

* * *

Tonight the Whippets return to the Sandusky joust to tangle with their North Central Ohio league rivals from Ashland at 7:15.

CALLS GALION HEALTH BOARD ACTION ILLEGAL

Mayor Says Appointment of New Commissioner Made Without Authority.

GALION — Mayor William Amann today held action by the Galion Board of Health Thursday in appointing a new health commissioner, illegal. He said appointment of a new commissioner would not be made this time.

Action of the board was challenged Friday by Dr. J. G. Mannhardt, who has served as commissioner for the past 10 years.

When the board met Thursday, for the first time this year, neither the mayor nor the health commissioner were present.

Election of a health commissioner being in order, according to board members, and there being only the application, the board named Dr. W. W. Corwin.

In challenging the appointment, Dr. Mannhardt said that the board was not a legally appointed board and was without authority to make the selection of a commissioner.

The marriage of Miss Patricia Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Willis, of Columbus, former Galion residents, to Ronald Sherman of Centerburg, has been announced here. The ceremony took place March 1.

Rev. James Wade read the single ring service in the parsonage of the Church of Christ, in the presence of the couple's attendants, Bernice Whiteside and Ernest Sparks, both of Columbus.

The bride who was graduated in 1941 from Galion high school, is a student at Ohio State university, in the college of Arts and Sciences. Mr. Sherman is a graduate of Centerburg high school and is associated with the Nestle company at Sunbury.

DISCUSSES GAS RATE SCHEDULE

Council Committee at Shelby Works on New Ordinance For the City.

SHELBY — City council's gas ordinance committee met Friday night at the city hall to study rates in effect in other cities about the size of Shelby.

The committee composed of Mayor W. R. Morris, councilman-at-large Wilbur Workman and Third Ward Councilman Noel Smith recently sent out letters to neighboring cities requesting copies of gas rate ordinances.

The replies were read at the meeting by Mayor Morris.

The committee is expected to make a report of the various rates paid by other cities when council meets March 16, at the city hall.

From these rates, it is expected that council will draw up an ordinance for Shelby. The present rates expired last year but continue in effect until council approves a new ordinance.

Another meeting of the committee is expected before the council meeting to draw up a tentative schedule to present to council.

Finds Only 26 of 567 Pupils Have Perfect Teeth

ed. Thirty-two "baby" teeth were reported defective.

The examinations were made by Dr. J. T. Fulton and Dr. I. E. Henry of the state department of health. They are made without charge.

Monday, the trailer will be moved to Western school to open its second week of inspections. It is expected that from five to six weeks will be required to examine the teeth of approximately 5,000 Richland county pupils in the first four elementary grades and seniors at the Mansfield Senior high school.

Dr. Wild said that the trailer had been used in several Ohio counties and that in every case to date an unusually high rate of defective teeth has been found. Parents are asked to take their children to their own dentists to have the defects remedied.

The totals of the Bowman street examinations are as follows: First grade, 157 children out of 173 were found to have 133 permanent and 13 decidious teeth defective and four with fillings; Second grade, 135 of 139 were found to have 228 permanent and 12 decidious teeth defective, 12 with fillings and 18 extracted; Third grade, 118 of 122 children had 251 permanent and 3 decidious teeth defective, 20 with fillings and 21 extracted; and Fourth grade, 130 of 132 pupils had 285 permanent and 4 decidious teeth defective, 50 with fillings and 31 extracted.

2—Card of Thanks

WITH REGARD TO A CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in The News-Journal meets a need which can hardly be solved in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes, but also courteously acknowledges the service and kindness of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed, or whose names or addresses are not known.

A "Card of Thanks" can now be arranged by telephone: Dial 4251-6, ask for Miss Lane or Miss Stone, either will be glad to render whatever service and advice you need.

AT LONG LAST!

EUGENE, Ore.—(UP)—It took 45 years of waiting, but Charles Eastland of Astoria, Ore., finally was awarded his football letter from the University of Oregon.

Eastman played on the varsity team in 1896 when no letters were given for athletic competition.

At homecoming ceremonies this year, the university belately gave Eastland his letter, a football sweater and voted him a member of the Order of the "O", letterman's honorary.

THEATERS

Screwball Musical.

"Hellzapoppin'," Olsen and Johnson's glorified musical show that has many of the attributes of a three-ring circus is now showing at the Ohio. The two zanies who turned a Broadway theater into a rough-house during the stage show run are creating as much amazement by their screen production as they did on the stage. They are aided by some first rate screen comedians, Mischa Auer, Hugh Herbert and Patsy Kelly and a corps of glamor girls who appear in several spectacular production numbers.

Army Thriller.

When a veteran U. S. cavalryman is forced to exchange his faithful mount for a steel tank he doesn't do it with very good grace in "The Bugle Calls," Wallace Beery's starring picture at the Madison. Beery plays the cavalry sergeant who gets himself court-martialed by his attitude and then wins a few medals by capturing some saboteurs. Marjorie Main, Lewis Stone and George Bancroft are in the cast plus thousands of army tanks. Alvino Ray's orchestra is featured in "Sing Your Worries Away," the co-attraction.

Historical Epic.

South American Musical.

The Brazilian bombshell, Carmen Miranda, sings her colorful Portuguese songs in "That Night in Rio," technicolor musical featuring Alice Faye, Don Ameche and Leonid Kinskey at the Park. Miss Miranda plays the theatrical partner of Ameche, an American entertainer in Rio. Ameche has a dual role, that of the entertainer and also that of a Brazilian count whom the entertainer resembles. Alice Faye appears as the wife of the count. "Road to Happiness," starring John Boles is the co-feature.

Southern Drama.

Jack LaRue appears in a story of the deep south in "Gentleman From Dixie," at the Majestic. He plays the role of a man just released from prison who gains new incentive when he helps his brother's child rear a sickly colt into a record-breaking racehorse. Marian Marsh, John Holland and Mary Ruth, a new juvenile, are in the cast also the Clarence Muse Singers. Tim Holt in "Come On Danger," shares the bill.

$498 Paid City Ends Waterworks Insurance Dispute

Kelley maintained that the purchase was illegal because it was beyond the $500 limit set on purchases without the authorization of council and the advertisement for competitive bids.

For a time, it appeared that the city would lose its claim but the payment of a $212 premium up until April 1 opened the way for the granting of the claim.

Last Tuesday, council opened the way for the purchase of the insurance on a long-term basis, authorizing Service-Safety Director Fred B. Wolff to advertise for competitive bids for the insurance.

Locke said today that $330 of the claim was paid on the basis of $10 for each hour the pump was out of commission and that the remaining $198 95 was a refund for the amount paid out by the city ot have the pump repaired.

MANSFIELD NEWS IN BRIEF

To Speak Sunday—Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of First Presbyterian church, will be the guest speaker at the Volunteers of America Sunday service at 7:30 p. m.

Reports New Case—Dr. William B. Wild, city-county health commissioner, reported today Richland county's sixth scarlet fever case since the first of the year. Four of the cases were reported last month in connection with a mild epidemic which caused the quarantine of the maternity ward of the General hospital. The newest case was reported from the southern part of the county, according to Wild.

TILLIE THE TOILER

BASCOM WOULD BE THE PERFECT GENTLEMAN AND NOT OVERHEAR DAVE'S PROPOSAL - I'LL HAVE TO GIVE HIM A REAL TEST TO SEE IF HE'S IN LOVE WITH ME
BASCOM, DAVE AND I- ARE IN LOVE- YOU MUST HELP US OUT
CERTAINLY, MISS JONES- I'LL BE GLAD TO HELP YOU OUT
I KNEW IT- BASCOM IS ONLY A LOYAL SERVANT AND A GOOD FRIEND OR HE WOULDN'T HAVE SAID THAT
BUT HOW DID HE MEAN, HELP US OUT? WASN'T THERE SOMETHING IN THE WAY HE SAID, "OUT"?
RUSS COLSTONER
OH, MUMSY I COULDN'T GIVE DAVE AN ANSWER
POOR CHILD MAYBE YOU SHOULD MARRY HIM AND MAYBE YOU SHOULDN'T IT'S A PROBLEM WHEN HE MAY BE LEAVING
RRRING
TILLIE, DAVE'S GOING TO BE SENT AWAY, BUT THERE WON'T BE ANY PROBLEM IF YOU MARRY ME - I'M NOT IN THE ARMY
MAC, YOU HERE?
FOR YOU, TILLIE
TILLIE, I'VE BEEN TRANSFERRED- I CAN'T TELL YOU WHERE OH, DAVE
MAC, HOW DID YOU KNOW DAVE WAS GOING TO BE TRANSFERRED? THERE'S SOMETHING FUNNY
ER, ER
RUSS COLSTONER
ANSWER ME - HOW DID YOU KNOW DAVE WAS GOING TO BE SENT AWAY?
WHY, ER, SOLDIERS ARE ALWAYS GOING TO BE SENT SOMEWHERE, YOU KNOW THAT RRRING
YOU DON'T CONVINCE ME, MAC
A COLONEL TRIGSBY WANTS YOU, MAC
OH, HELLO, "BEETLE", YOU OLD BALONEY-SLICER! SURE, I'LL BE WITH YOU RIGHT AWAY
HE MUST BE A PALSY-WALSY IF HE TALKS TO HIM LIKE THAT MAC, COLONEL TRIGSBY IS DAVE'S COLONEL - DID YOU ASK HIM TO TRANSFER DAVE?
TILLIE, HOW DARE YOU SAY SUCH A THING?
RUSS COLSTONER
FROM THE WAY MAC TALKED TO COL. TRIGSBY THEY MUST BE REGULAR CRONIES - I BELIEVE MAC GOT HIM TO SEND DAVE AWAY
SHAME ON YOU, AN ARMY OFFICER WOULDN'T DO THAT
AND DON'T THINK I'M NOT WISE TO YOU
BASCOM, YOU'RE CONCEALING SOMETHING FROM ME - I DEMAND THAT, AS MY SERVANT, YOU TELL THE TRUTH
I HAVE, AND I'LL TELL THE MOST IMPORTANT TRUTH FIRST
TILLIE, ER - MISS JONES - ER, TILLIE I LOVE YOU
RUSS COLSTONER
I CAN'T EXPRESS HOW MUCH I LOVE YOU
BASCOM, I WON'T HAVE A SERVANT TALKING TO ME LIKE THAT - YOU'RE FIRED
THEN I AM NO LONGER YOUR SERVANT AND CAN MAKE LOVE TO YOU - TILLIE, WILL YOU MARRY ME?
THEN YOU'RE NOT FIRED
AND SINCE YOU'RE STILL MY SERVANT, YOU KEEP IN YOUR PLACE
TILLIE
WHAT'S THIS NOTE? "DEAR WARREN, BE PATIENT, YOU OLD FUSSBUDGET, AS EVER - TRIGSBY" THEN BASCOM MUST BE A FRIEND OF COL. TRIGSBY'S - COULD HE HAVE REQUESTED DAVE'S TRANSFER?
RUSS COLSTONER
SO I FOUND THIS NOTE FROM COL TRIGSBY TO BASCOM, SAYING, "BE PATIENT, YOU OLD FUSSBUDGET"
WELL, THEY MUST BE GOOD FRIENDS, IF HE CALLS HIM A NAME LIKE THAT THAT'S JUST THE POINT
NOW DON'T TELL ME YOU SUSPECT BASCOM THE WAY YOU DID MAC
OF COURSE, EITHER BASCOM OR MAC GOT COL. TRIGSBY TO TRANSFER DAVE AWAY FROM HERE
TILLIE
YOUNG LADY, I'M AFRAID YOU KNOW VERY LITTLE OF THE ETHICS OF THE MILITARY PROFESSION, IF YOU THINK AN OFFICER WOULD DO SUCH A THING
MISS JONES, THIS IS COL. TRIGSBY
RUSS COLSTONER

TOOTS AND CASPER

WHAT'S THIS? JULIAN MORGABILT IN BANKRUPTCY! THAT'S ABSURD! THERE MUST BE SOME MISTAKE!
WHY, ONLY LAST WEEK HE AND I PLANNED TO UNITE OUR FORTUNES THROUGH MY DAUGHTER'S MARRIAGE TO HIS SON---BUT INSTEAD SHE ELOPED AND MARRIED THAT OTHER BOY! HMM- I'LL ASK MY BANKERS ABOUT THIS!
YES, MR. PLUNKER, JULIAN MORGABILT IS BANKRUPT! HE'S BEEN IN BAD SHAPE FINANCIALLY FOR MONTHS!
MY WORD!
JIMMY MURPHY
HMM-M- IF HE AND I HAD POOLED OUR ASSETS HE'D FURNISH THE DEBTS AND I'D FURNISH THE DOUGH! IT'S A NARROW ESCAPE FOR ME! NOW I'M GLAD MY DAUGHTER DIDN'T MARRY HIS SON--- BUT SHE DIDN'T DO MUCH BETTER WHEN SHE MARRIED THAT PENNILESS BLIGHTER ARTIE!
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
MR. PLUNKER, I DIDN'T KNOW ARTIE WAS YOUR DAUGHTER'S EX-FLAME! I DIDN'T KNOW WHEN, BY A CO-INCIDENCE, I BROUGHT THEM TOGETHER AGAIN THAT THEY'D ELOPE AND GET MARRIED
GIMME MY JOB BACK, BOSS-- PLEASE!
CASPER, YOU'RE THROUGH HERE! YOU'VE CAUSED ME TOO MUCH GRIEF!
I'M GLAD THERESE DIDN'T MARRY MONTE MORGABILT BECAUSE HIS FATHER IS NOW BANKRUPT--- BUT IF SHE HAD WAITED LOTS OF OTHER BOYS OF WEALTH AND POSITION WOULD HAVE SOUGHT HER HAND IN MARRIAGE
JIMMY MURPHY
BOSS, YOU OUGHT TO MAKE UP WITH ARTIE AND THERESE! AFTER ALL SHE'S YOUR DAUGHTER.
CASPER, I TOLD YOU THAT YOU'RE FIRED.... AND I WANT NO ADVICE FROM YOU AT ALL!
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
TOOTS, NO USE OF ME TRYING TO SQUARE MYSELF WITH MY BOSS! HE'LL NEVER FORGIVE ME BECAUSE I INNOCENTLY BROUGHT HIS DAUGHTER THERESE AND ARTIE TOGETHER AGAIN!
BEN, PLEASE DROP IN AND SEE THE NEWLYWEDS ARTIE AND THERESE---- THEY'RE NOW AT THE HOTEL EL SWELLO!
THE EL SWELLO THE MOST EXPENSIVE HOTEL IN TOWN?
THAT PENNILESS BLIGHTER MUST THINK I'LL FURNISH THE MONEY WHEN THE BILLS COME IN, BUT I'LL FOOL HIM!
BOSS, IT'S YOUR DUTY TO BURY THE HATCHET AND VISIT YOUR DAUGHTER AND HER HUSBAND.
VERY WELL, OLD MAN, I WILL, BUT THEY'LL HAVE TO GET ALONG THE BEST WAY THEY CAN, WITHOUT MY HELP!
JIMMY MURPHY
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
ARTIE, MY DAD IS IN THE LOBBY! GEE, I'M ALMOST AFRAID TO FACE HIM!
TELL HIM TO COME UP, THERESE! I'LL HANDLE HIM!
HMM-M- A FOUR ROOM SUITE AND A MAID! ISN'T THAT GOING PRETTY STRONG?
HELLO, DADDY!
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
YOUNG MAN, IF YOU EXPECT ME TO PAY FOR ALL THIS YOU'RE SADLY MISTAKEN.
I'M QUITE ABLE TO PAY FOR THIS MR. PLUNKER, IF YOU PLEASE!
JIMMY MURPHY
HMM- ARRUMF-- IT LOOKS PRETTY EXTRAVAGENT TO ME!
DADDY, THERE'S SOMETHING ABOUT ARTIE YOU MUST KNOW! SIT DOWN AND I'LL TELL YOU--
SOMETHING TELLS US HERE'S WHERE MR. PLUNKER GETS THE JOLT OF HIS LIFE.
DADDY, MY HUSBAND ARTIE CAN WELL AFFORD THIS SUITE;--- I DIDN'T KNOW IT, MYSELF UNTIL AFTER I MARRIED HIM THAT HE'S A VERY WEALTHY YOUNG MAN!
YOU KNOW HOW HE ALWAYS PUTTERED AT INVENTIONS? WELL, HE GOT PATENTS ON SEVERAL AIR-PLANE PARTS THAT NETTED HIM TWO MILLION DOLLARS CASH PLUS HANDSOME MONTHLY ROYALTIES.
CASPER, THEY MAY BE SPOOFING ME, BUT I'LL CHECK UP ON ARTIE AT THE BANK AND SEE DEFINITELY!
JIMMY MURPHY
YES, MR PLUNKER, YOUR SON-IN-LAW HAS A MILLION CASH IN THE BANKS, PLUS OVER TWO MILLIONS IN SECURITIES THAT WE HOLD FOR HIM IN TRUST--
W-WHAT?
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
MY DAUGHTERS HUSBAND ARTIE IS WORTH $3,000,000.00 HMM-M- HE'S A FINE BOY! A MIGHTY FINE BOY!
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
ARTIE, I WAS ONLY FOOLING IN OBJECTING TO YOU---ER- JUST TESTING YOU OUT, AS IT WERE.
NO HARD FEELINGS, MR PLUNKER! I'VE WON THERESE'S HEART AND THAT'S ALL THAT MATTERS.
I TRIED TO BUST UP THERESE'S ROMANCE WITH ARTIE THINKING HE WAS POOR SO SHE COULD MARRY MONTE WHOM I THOUGHT WAS RICH. BUT IT TURNS OUT TO BE THE OTHER WAY AROUND! ARTIE IS RICH AND MONTE IS BROKE.
JIMMY MURPHY
CASPER, YOU DID ME A BIG FAVOR, AND ALL IS FORGIVEN! COME BACK TO WORK MONDAY, AND, ER- YOU GET A RAISE, TOO!
THANKS, BOSS— I SORTA BLUNDERED THROUGH THIS WHOLE THING BUT ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL!

SECRET AGENT X-9

QUITE A BIT OF EXCITEMENT DURING THE BLACKOUT LAST NIGHT, X-9! SOMEONE TRIED TO SHOOT UP HONOLULU!
STORE WINDOWS WERE SMASHED AND SEVERAL MOTORISTS REPORT SHOTS FIRED AT THEIR TIRES! AN INCENDIARY BLAZE WAS STARTED IN A WAREHOUSE!
ALL THESE THINGS HAPPENED WITHIN A TWO-MILE RADIUS...IT LOOKS LIKE PLANNED NUISANCE TO DISTURB PUBLIC MORALE!
HITLER WAS A NUISANCE... TILL HE BECAME A MENACE!
RIGHT! WITH THE HELP OF PATROLLING AIR-RAID WARDENS, THE POLICE HAVE ROUNDED UP A NUMBER OF SUSPECTS. LET'S GO OVER AND HAVE A LOOK AT 'EM!
OKAY!
ARE THESE THE MEN ROUNDED UP DURING THE BLACKOUT LAST NIGHT, STEVE?
THAT'S RIGHT, X-9!
THE POLICE HAVE CHECKED THEIR ALIBIS...THEY ALL SEEM TO BE BONA FIDE... WITHOUT MORE SPECIFIC CHARGES, THEY'LL BE RELEASED!
FAIR ENOUGH! LET'S SEE SOME OF THE DAMAGE!
HERE'S THE WAREHOUSE THAT WAS SET ABLAZE... THE FIRE WARDEN FOUND OIL-SOAKED RAGS NEAR BY!
HM-M!
THIS IS ONE OF THE SEVERAL SHATTERED SHOP WINDOWS!
NOT A CLUE IN SIGHT! WELL DONE DIRTY WORK. HOWEVER, WE'RE MAKING SOME PROGRESS, EVEN SO!
HELLO, BILL! DIG UP ANY TRACES OF THE GUY WHO TRIED TO WRECK HONOLULU LAST NIGHT?
NOT A THING, X-9! HE COVERED HIS TRACKS LIKE A GHOST
I'VE BEEN GOING THROUGH THE CRIMINAL FILES...HE'S PROBABLY ONE OF THE BOYS FROM THE STATES WHO SLIPPED IN UNDER A PHONEY NAME... THE WAR HAS RUINED MOST RACKETS!
GANGSTERS CAN'T LIVE ON AIR! OUR PAL MAY HAVE HOOKED ON TO SOMEBODY WITH DOUGH, HERE IN HONOLULU!
AND SUCH AN EMPLOYER WOULD HAVE TO BE AN ENEMY...THE IDEA IS TO GIVE PUBLIC MORALE THE JITTERS! ANOTHER BLACKOUT TONIGHT, BILL...LET'S DO SOME WALKING!
FLACKIE! WAKE UP! YOU'VE BEEN SLEEPING ALL DAY!
HUH? OKAY, OKAY!
GET A LOAD OF THIS... 'CRIME WAVE DURING LAST NIGHT'S BLACKOUT HAS HONOLULU ON EDGE'... COULDN'T BE BETTER!
SOMETHING TOLD ME YOU WERE BACK AT WORK!
WHAT'S THE MATTER, BABY? MAYBE YOU THINK THE WORK ISN'T REFINED ENOUGH... HUH! SINCE WHEN ARE YOU WEARING WINGS? SNAP OUT OF IT! I'M HUNGRY!
I KNOW PLENTY OF DAMES WHO'D GO FOR ME WITH THE DOUGH I'M MAKIN' ON THIS JOB! GET WISE!
I JUST SPOKE WITH THE BOSS... HE'S TICKLED PINK WITH THE WAY I WORKED THE RIOT ACT HERE IN HONOLULU LAST NIGHT!
TONIGHT, HE WANTS ME TO MUSS UP THE ROUTINE AT THE SWANKY ALOHA CLUB! WHEN THE LIGHTS GO OUT, YOU AND I ARE GOING TO BLOW WHISTLES AND YELL "AIR-RAID!" GET IT?
I'M NOT GOING!
HEY, WHAT'S EATIN' YOU? I OUGHT TO DROP YOU COLD!
THAT SUITS ME, FLACKIE! SO LONG!
EASY, SISTER! I MIGHT REMEMBER THE NAMES OF A COUPLE OF D.A.'S WHO ARE WONDERING WHERE YOU SKIPPED TO!
MAYBE WE'LL RUN INTO THAT MUG WHO IS TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THE BLACKOUT TO DISRUPT PUBLIC MORALE HERE IN HONOLULU, BILL! LET'S KEEP WALKING!
OKAY, X-9!
PARDON ME, FELLOW... NO CIGARETTES DURING THE BLACKOUT! PUT IT OUT!
WHY, YOU—!
DON'T ARGUE, FLACKIE! COME ALONG!
WHO DOES HE THINK HE IS?
GET IN HERE! SAY, THOSE ARE THE TWO GUYS WHO CAME OVER WITH US ON THE PLANE! WE DON'T WANT THEM TRAILING US!

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

I WAS JEST 'BOUT KNEE-HIGH TO A GRASS-HOPPER WHEN I STARTED TO LEARN HOW TO GROW THINGS AND I'M STILL A-LEARNING—
JEST LIKE BOOK LEARNIN' AN' EVERY-THING ELSE—THE HARDEST PART IS THE START—YOU HAVE TO LEARN THE A-B-C'S FIRST—AFTER YOU LEARN THE ALPHABET, THE REST OF THE JOB IS JEST A MATTER OF TIME—
TILL THE FROST IS OUT OF THE GROUND YOU'LL HAVE YOUR LESSONS HERE IN THE HOTHOUSE—LEARNIN' HOW TO PLANT YOUR SEED AN' TAKE CARE OF YOUR SOIL UNTIL THE YOUNG SPROUTS ARE READY FOR TRANSPLANTING—
BUT YOU DON'T HAVE TO WORRY—'DON'T MAKE NO DIFFERENCE IF YOU'RE YOUNG OR OLD—TALL OR SHORT—ANYONE WITH A MITE OF COMMON SENSE CAN LEARN HOW TO GROW THINGS IF THEY REALLY SET THEIR MIND TO IT
DARRELL McCLURE
MY GOODNESS—THERE ARE HEAPS OF THINGS TO LEARN BEFORE YOU START EVEN A TINY LITTLE VICTORY FARM!
I CAN'T REMEMBER HALF THE THINGS MR. LOAM SAID WE MUST KNOW
I ALWAYS THOUGHT YOU JUST TOOK A HANDFUL OF SEEDS—SCATTERED THEM ALL OVER THE GROUND JUST LIKE YOU WERE FEEDING CHICKENS—AN' THEN WAITED FOR THEM TO GROW INTO FLOWERS AN' VEGETABLES
OH—I KNEW IT WOULDN'T BE THAT EASY—'CAUSE IF IT WAS, THEN THE FARMERS WOULDN'T NEED PLOWS AN' HOES AN' RAKES AN' ALL THE TOOLS THEY USE ON A FARM—
DARRELL McCLURE
BUT MR. LOAM SEZ WE DON'T HAVE TO WORRY—HE'LL SHOW US JUST HOW TO DO EVERYTHING—AN' WHEN WE GRADUATE, OUR DIPLOMAS WILL BE A HARVEST OF NICE, FRESH VEGETABLES FOR POOR FOLKS
GLORYOSKY, ZERO, BUT IT'S A SWELL DAY! THE SUN IS SHININ' SO WARM AN' FRIENDLY, IT MAKES YOU THINK THE CALENDAR MUST BE WRONG
TODAY, EVERYONE WAS SAYIN', "DON'T THAT SUNSHINE FEEL GOOD AFTER ALL THE ICE AN' SNOW WE'VE HAD?" AN', OF COURSE, THEY'RE RIGHT—
—BUT WHEN SUMMER COMES AN' THE SUN IS SHININ' EVERY DAY, LOTSA FOLKS DON'T LIKE IT—THEY SAY, "GEE, BUT ITS HOT! ISN'T IT EVER GONNA RAIN AGAIN—IT'S LIKE LIVIN' IN AN OVEN"
BUT WHEN ALL THE DAYS ARE RAINY OR SNOWY AN' COLD, FOLKS DON'T LIKE THAT—AN' WHEN THE SUN COMES OUT AN' STARTS TO SHINE—FOLKS ALL HOLLER, "HURRAY, HURRAY, ISN'T THE SUN GRAND!"
DARRELL McCLURE
—AND WHEN YOU HEAR NON-THINKING INDIVIDUALS BELITTLING OR STIGMATIZING ORPHANS—
JUST REMEMBER WHAT COUNTLESS ORPHANS HAVE DONE TO MAKE THIS A BETTER WORLD FOR EVERYONE TO LIVE IN—BE PROUD TO REMEMBER ORPHANS LIKE—
JOHN HARVARD—WHO FOUNDED THE FIRST COLLEGE IN THIS COUNTRY, WHICH STILL FLOURISHES AS A LIVING TESTIMONIAL TO THE FACT—
3-5 Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
THAT ORPHANS ARE AND ALWAYS WERE, AMONG THE FINEST SPECIMENS OF HUMANITY THAT EVER LIVED IN THE WORLD!
YOU KNOW, THAT OL' ORPHAN OLIVER'S GOT ME STUMPED—I CAN'T RIGHTLY FIGGER OUT IF HE'S A CRACK-POT OR A SAINT
IF YOU ASK ME, HE'S A MIGHTY SLICK CUSTOMER—
YEARS AGO, WHEN HE DROPPED DOWN OUTA THE SKY, I TRIED TO FIND OUT WHERE HE CAME FROM—AN' WHY—HE MUST BE HIDIN' SOMETHIN', OR SOMEBODY WOULD KNOW SOMETHIN' 'BOUT HIM
BY JINGO! HE'S MY FAVORITE PERSON—JUST GOES ALONG MINDIN' HIS OWN BUSINESS AN' KEEPIN' HIS TRAP SHUT—WHILE MOST OF THE FOLKS IN TOWN ARE TRYIN' TO FIND OUT IF HE'S AN EX-CONVICT, A FAMOUS SWINDLER—OR JUST A FOREIGN SPY—
DARRELL McCLURE
HAW, HEH—THEY'VE FOLLOWED EVERY CLUE—AN' ALL THEY KIN PROVE IS, HE'S GUILTY OF HELPIN' THOUSANDS OF POOR FOLKS WHO NEEDED HELP—BUT CHARITY AIN'T NO CRIME—YOU CAN'T SEND A MAN TO JAIL FOR COMMITTIN' A HEAP OF KIND ACTS AGIN' INNOCENT PEOPLE!!
GLORYOSKY! THIS SEED CATALOGUE IS BETTER THAN A STORY BOOK—IT'S FULL OF VEGETABLES THAT MAKE YOU HUNGRY JUST TO LOOK AT 'EM!
Seeds
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
GOLLY—LOOK AT THAT PUMPKIN—IT'S BIGGER'N A WASH-TUB!
I DON'T LIKE YELLOW—RED IS MY FAVORITE COLOR—I THINK I'LL GROW LOVELY RED RADISHES ON MY VICTORY FARM
I'M GONNA RAISE CARROTS—GREAT, BIG, LONG—
CARROTS—HUH! I THINK PEAS ARE NICER
HEY, WAIT—FIRST, WE GOT TO ASK MR. OLIVER WHAT THE COUNTRY NEEDS—AN' THEN WE'LL RAISE THAT!
